Suggests Korea Talks

Pravda Thinks More Negotiations Logical, Hails Indochina Peace As Red Victory

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda called today for new Korean negotiations and U.N. membership for Communist China as a follow-up to the Geneva agreement on Indochina.

The Soviet Communist party organ hailed the Indochina settlement as a great Communist victory and declared that Geneva had exposed the "bankruptcy" of American foreign policy.

The paper said in a three-column front-page editorial that "the U.S. delegation prevented" a peaceful solution in the earlier Geneva talks on reuniting Korea but public opinion "demands the governments concerned continue their efforts to revive the discussion."

As a result of Geneva, Pravda said, "it is now clear to all how bankrupt are attempts by American diplomacy to prevent the Chinese people from entering the international arena and taking the place due them among the great powers."

"The peoples demand that China should take its lawful place in the United Nations," the paper declared, "and it will take it however much certain thick-skulled American politicians, bound by material interest to Chiang Kai-shek, fight against it. If this does not take place, the United Nations will be unable to fulfill the tasks assigned it by its charter."

(The Utnied States opposes admission of Red China to the U.N. on the ground it has never abandoned its role of the aggressor in Korea. The Western Allies broke off the Korean phase of the Geneva conference June 15 afer the Communists refused to agree to U.N.-supervised elections to reunite the divided peninsula.)

Pravda's editorial was chiefly a blast at the United States. It mentioned Britain and France only briefly.

The editorial said the Geneva agreement banning foreign military bases in Viet Nam "deals a blow to the plans of American aggressive circles, which were counting on the inclusion of South Viet Nam plus Laos and Cambodia in an aggressive pact and creation there of military bases directed against the countries of the Democratic camp."

The paper claimed the United States was defeated in efforts to block future elections in Viet Nam and to prevent the inclusion of Poland among the truce supervisors.

"The collapse of attempts by U. S. ruling circles to impose their will on other countries is now clear," the newspaper asserted.

Pravda's demand that East-West negotiations on Korea be reopened echoed statements at the Geneva conference's closing session yesterday by Red China's Premier Chou En-lai and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Cloudy Skies Will Continue State 'Cool-Off'

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Clouded skies, scattered showers and thunderstorms are expected to continue "cooling off" Missourians at least through Friday.

That's the forecast by the Weather Bureau at Kansas City.

Temperatures dipped over the state last night bringing precious relief from the heat wave that has bakel the state for a month. A cool 69 degrees was reported at Kirksville. It was 71 at Farmington, 72 at Rolla, 73 at St. Joseph, 74 at Columbia, West Plains, St. Louis, and Malden, 75 at Springfield, 76 at Kansas City, 77 at Butler and 82 at Joplin.

Farmington had .65 inch rainfall last night. Other precipitation reported included: Vichy .50, Kirksville .26, Farmington and Butler .23, St. Louis .15, Columbia .13, Kansas City .07, St. Joseph .05, Springfield .20, and Rolla .50.

Kansas City and Butler each had readings of 101 for yesterday's highs. It was 100 at Joplin. Other highs included: Columbia 95, Kirksville 90, Vichy 91, Springfield 93, St. Joseph 97, West Plains 96, St. Louis 86 and Farmington 94.

The forecast calls for cooler weather in the west and north portions tonight and tomorrow with temperatures in the 70s. High Friday will range from 75-80 extreme northwest to the 90s southeast.

Humiditized

It isn't so hot, thermometer-wise, but the humidity is higher than the mercury. We're all humiditized.

This far this year there have been 17 days with over-100 readings.

Partly cloudy tonight and Friday with thunderstorms likely late tonight or Friday forenoon Low tonight in the 70s. High Friday in the 90s.

The temperature at 7 a.m. was 78; 97 at 1 p.m., and 98 at 2 p.m.

One year ago today here high 89, low 70; two years ago 96, 76; three years ago 93, 73.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks: 55.2 steady.

Returns Home With Armistice He Promised

Premier Smiles, Looks Relaxed As He Arrives In Paris

PARIS (AP) — Smiling and looking relaxed, Premier Pierre Mendes-France returned home from Geneva today to present to the French Assembly the Indochina cease-fire he promised a month ago to win from the Communists.

His DC3 military plane touched down at Villa Coublay Airport and a few minutes later Mendes-France stepped out jauntily to greet about 150 persons, including members of his cabinet, his family and a corps of newsmen and photographers crowded about the ramp.

The Premier first kissed his attractive wife, then moved on to greet other members of his family and Finance Minister Edgar Faure acting Premier during his weeks of bargaining with the Communists in Geneva.

Mendes-France made no statement before pushing through the crowd to his car and heading for a Cabinet meeting.

The group about the plane had applauded politely as he stepped down but there was no other demonstration.

Leaving Geneva earlier today, Mendes-France said he believed the results of the conference were "worth the efforts we hade made."

"I have read," he said, "that yesterday was the first day of total peace in the world in many years."

Addressing himself to "the men and women of the United States whose love of peace is well known to my country," Mendes-France voiced the hope that "the world is now entering a phase where the effors of all governments will be more devoted every day to the reinforcement of this new and fragile peace and to the progress of mankind."

After he delivers his report on Indochina to the Assembly, Mendes-France must start the push for the rest of the three-point "Save France" program on which he won office.

The most crucial point in the program — in Western eyes — is the role France intends to play in the disputed European Defense Community. Before he left Geneva, Mendes-France heard the United States and Russia present last minute arguments for and against the international army plan to rearm West Germany.

First Russia's V. M. Molotov caught the French Premier's ear yesterday to remind him of Russia's objections to the defense community idea. The Soviet foreign minister apparently hoped the Reds' agreement to an Indochina peace at Geneva would persuade the French the Red bear now is so docile German troops are not needed.

But at dinner last night U. S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith drew Mendes-France aside to remind him that the United States still feels the EDC is the key to West Europe's defense against Communist aggression.

The French Premier also had a brief talk with British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden. Britain has joined the United States in urging that France give quick approval to the one-uniform army plan.

When Mendes-France made his dramatic bid for France's premership a month ago, he outlined a three-point program:

1. Settlement of the Indochina conflict by July 20.

2. Submission of a coherent, detailed program for internal economic recovery, provided the Assembly gives him the powers necessary to implement it.

3. Presentation to Parliament of suggestions to help it decide on a policy for a united Europe—in other words, EDC.

Mendes-France said then he considered a new approach to EDC in order. He called the plan which would put German soldiers in uniform along with the troops of five other West European countries "one of the gravest problems of conscience that has ever troubled a country." He indicated there should be an adjustment of views with the other signers of the pact—West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, and Luxembourg.

Better Financial Showing

End of Fiscal Year Finds US In the Red A Quarter-Billion Less Than Expected

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower announced today the government "made a better showing than expected" in the fiscal year just ended by winding up $3,029,000,000 in the red on June 30.

That was a deficit of a quarter of a billion dollars less than Eisenhower had predicted for the fiscal year 1954 in his January budget message. It was $6,893,000,000 less than former President Truman forecast for the same year in his final budget.

And it was $6,411,000,000 below the $9,449,000,000 by which the government overspent its income the year before.

The presidential announcement, based on the Treasury's statement of the nation's finances on June 30, closing day of the fiscal year, was handed to reporters by presidential press secretary James Hagerty.

The 7½ per cent reduction from the deficit predicted in January—when the fiscal year was half done—was achieved, Eisenhower said, despite a sharp fall in the government's income under the predicted level.

The government's receipts in the 12 months ended June 30 ran 3 billion dollars lower than predicted, the President said, but the administration meanwhile whacked spending 3¼ billion dollars below what had been forecast.

That made the deficit a quarter of a billion dollars less than had been expected.

The Treasury's year-end figures showed that fiscal 1954 tax receipts from individual income taxes were a billion dollars less than previously estimated and that corporation tax receipts were down over 1¼ billion dollars. The bulk of the spending cut, about 2½ billion dollars of it, was in national security outlays of all kinds, with direct military outlays absorbing the biggest cut.

The reduction of the fiscal 1954 deficit to nearly three billion dollars, Eisenhower said, takes the administration "two-thirds of the way" toward balancing the budget He was referring to the nearly 10 billion dollars deficit predicted for the year when the Eisenhower administration took over.

Eisenhower said in a statement that the progress toward a balanced budget had been achieved "while putting into effect a tax program which will return nearly 7½ billion dollars to the people." He added:

"These fiscal achievements mean a great deal to the American people:

"1. We have made possible a program of tax cuts totalling 7½ billion dollars.

"2. We have halted inflation. The purchasing power of the dollar has varied only one half of one cent in the past 18 months.

"3. Our people have new confidence. We are laying a firm base for a healthy and expanding economy for better national security, and for more jobs for more people."

Mendes-France Calls Indochina Decision 'End of a Nightmare'

PARIS (AP) — Premire Pierre Mendes-France told the French National Assembly today the agreement for an end to the fighting in Indochina which he achieved at Geneva marked "the end of a nightmare for France."

He called parts of the cease-fire agreement "sometimes cruel," but said he is convinced that it is "the best we could have hopel for in view of conditions."

The public and press galleries were jammed to overflowing. There was a larger turnout of deputies than veteran observers had seen for years.

Mendes-France was given about 40 seconds of applause as he entered. He was enthusiastically applauded again at the finish. Even the Communists joined in the applause.

Donnelly Gives Power Strikers a Deadline

JEFFERSON CIT Y(AP) — Gov. Phil M. Donnelly set a 4 p. m. deadline today for strikers to withdraw their pickets from Kansas City Power and Light Co property.

(Earlier story on page 13.)

If this "threat to the public interest" is not ended by then, he notified union and company officials, he would "take positive action to remove it in the public interest."

Calls Himself 'Killer'

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — A 36-year-old ex-soldier told Shreveport, La., police last night he is Texarkana's "phantom killer," but two Texarkana police officers said today he probably is "another mental case."

The man had burns on his arms and shoulders and told police he burned himself with cigarettes to "punish myself for the terrible crimes I committed."

High-Level Moves by Both East and West Come Swiftly on Heels of Indochina Peace

High-level moves by both the East and West came swiftly today on the heels of the Indochina settlement at Geneva.

The United States and Britain and their allies outlined plans for an international conference to draw up a defensive alliance to protect non-Communist Southeast Asia areas against further Red conquest.

The Soviet Communist party organ, Pravda, called for United Nations membership for Communist China and new Korean negotiations.

Diplomatic sources in Washington said an official announcement of an international conference between the Western powers was expected shortly. Some officials told a newsmen the meeting would be held late next month in the Asian area. The makeup of the projected meeting remains to be determined.

A Southeast Asia Treaty Organization of 10 nations originally was proposed by the United States. The 10 nations were the United States, Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, the Philippines and the Indochinese states of Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

The Geneva agreements restrict defensive alliances, however, by the Indochinese states.

Britain has been anxious to bring in as many additional Asian nations as possible. The British especially want India's cooperation. It was understood Britain plans to consult with Indian Prime Minister Nehru, and other friendly Asian nations, seeking understanding if not participation in any treaty organization.

Pravda, meanwhile, hailed the Indochina settlement and said public opinion demands new negotiations on reuniting Korea.

In a front-page editorial, Pravda said "the U.S. delegation prevented" a peaceful solution in earlier Geneva talks on Korea.

As a result of the Indochina agreement, Pravda continued, "it is now clear to all how bankrupt are attempts by American diplomacy to prevent the Chinese people from entering the international arena and taking the place due them among the great powers. The people demand that China should take its lawful place in the United Nations."

The Western allies ended the Korean phase of the Geneva conference July 15 after the Communists rejected plans for U. N. supervised elections to reunite that country.

Admission of Red China to the United Nations is opposed by the United States on the ground the Chinese Communists have never abandoned the role of aggressor in Korea.

The Soviet organ also lashed out at talk of a treaty organization in Southeast Asia. It warned the "enemies of peace" still are trying to weaken the Indochina settlement by attempting to establish an "aggressive bloc" in Southeast Asia.

French Premier Pierre Mendes-France returned to Paris from Geneva today to deliver his report on the settlement to the French Assembly.

Before leaving Geneva, Mendes-France said he believed the results of the conference were "worth the efforts we had made."

In London, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons the only alternative to the cease-fire agreement was "continued fighting" and a risk of extension of the war.

U. S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith headed from Geneva for London where he was to confer with Prime Minister Churchill. After a four-hour stop in England, Smith planned to fly on to the United States to report to President Eisenhower.

In Indochina, French and Vietnamese military leaders deplored the partitioning of Viet Nam, but said the fight for freedom was not lost.

US Criticism Reaps British Resentment

Reaction Extends To Conservatives, Once-Friendly Press

LONDON (AP) — U.S. Criicism of the Indochina cease-fire terms touched off bristling editorials and bitter cartoons in a wide cross section of the British press today.

The angry reaction extended even to some conservative newspapers which up to now had strongly defended America against British fault-finding.

One of these, the arch-Conservative Daily Mail, said British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden singlehandedly kept the Geneva conference going amid "cries of 'appeaser'" and added:

"Only yesterday American senators referred again to 'another Munich'—showing they have no idea what Munich was.

"What, anyway, is their policy?"

"Do they want another 100,000 American boys killed and maimed for another Panmunjom?"

The big-circulation Daily Mirror published a vitriolic cartoon depicting U.S. Secretary of State Dulles seated glumly under a calendar dated "July 21, 1954" as two gaudily dressed businessmen burst in, shouting indignantly, "peace has broken out!"

The Laborite Daily Herald quoted a writer in the New York Times as saying, "the Communists have scored another major vicory in the struggle for the world," and commented:

"That is his judgment on the cease-fire in Indochina, and his view is widely shared on the other side of the Atlantic.

"But Mr. Anthony Eden is no Communist. Nor is Monsieur Mendes-France. Nor is Mr. Nehru.

"Yet all these and multitudes of other people of every race hail the sanity of the settlement as a triumph for the art of negotiation. The contrast between these two viewpoints is stark and shattering.

"Was it really wrong to stop the fighting?"

The Liberal News Chronicle sounded a note of alarm at the possibility of a serious rupture in relations between Britain and France on the one side and America on the other.

"At Geneva, France and Britain have had to act to a large degree without America," the News Chronicle said. "There need be no harm in this. It may even be healthy provided the independence does not lead to estrangement. To prevent this happening is the next big job for diplomacy on both sides of the Atlantic."

Canberra, Australia (AP)—Ausralian Prime Minister Robert Menzies warned his country today not to forget "Communist aggression or defense preparations which that aggression renders necessary."

In a statement on the Indochina cease-fire, the Prime Miniser said "our security in Australia depends upon converting the temporary halt into a permanent one."

SINGAPORE (AP) — Malaya's two biggest newspapers viewed the Indochina armistice today with mixed emotions.

Said the European-owned Straits Times of Singapore:

"Half of Indochina is abandoned to Communist domination. The Indochina agreement ends a war but does not give Southeast Asia peace . . . The stability and security of Asia depend more than ever on an effective organization against aggression."

Two Sedalia Girls on Teenage Trip of Presbyterian Church

Two Sedalia teen-age girls, Miss Berlene Curtis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Curtis, 1516 South Missouri, and Miss Charlotte Houston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Houston, 1601 West 14th, left Mexico, Missouri, Sunday with a group of 60 teen-agers on a trip that will include nine different states, Washington, D.C., and Canada.

Berlene and Charlotte are members of the Broadway Presbyterian Church and the tour, called the East Westminster Fellowship Caravan, is sponsored by the Presbyterian Churches of the United States of America. The purpose is to acquaint the young people with what the church's money does at missions, how it serves the youth and furthers education of young people.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis took the two girls to Mexico where they joined the others for the two-weeks trip. There were two Greyhound buses with three or four adult chaperones on each bus and also a registered nurse. The tour was planned and is directed by the Rev. Charles Andrus, Hannibal.

Leaving Mexico they spent the first night in Vincennes, Ind., and the second night at Wooton, Ky., where a brother of John Schondelmeyer, Sedalia, is minister at the mission. July 19 they were at Forest Hills Mission at Morris Fork, Ky.; July 20, at the mission at Wooton, Ky.; July 21, at Warren Wilson Junior College, Swannanoa, N. C.; Thursday and Thursday night at Raleigh, N. C. On Friday they will be at the Richmand Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, Va.; July 24, at Washington, D. C.; Sunday and Sunday night at Mt. Airy Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, Pa.; then to New York City, Uew Jersey, Niagara Falls, London, Ontario, Canada; Detroit, Mich.; South Bend, Ind., and then back to Mexico.

Miss South Carolina Becomes New Miss USA at Long Beach

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Miss Souh Carolina, a Dixie coed who is all woman, today is the new Miss U.S.A.

Miriam Stevenson, 21-year-old college senior from Winnsboro, S. C., won last night over 46 other entrants for the title which will pit her against 32 foreign beauties for the Miss Universe crown.

Miss Stevenson's first words to newspapermen after she won were: "I cain't believe it."

Asked if she knew she would have to lose her southern accent now that she has won a movie contract with Universal-International Studio, she answered: "Sho nuff."

Of voluptuous build, the wholesome-looking winner has perfect measurements: 36-inch bust and hips and 24-inch waist. Her 120 pounds are well distributed over a 5-foot-6 frame.

She had come here without luggage except for an evening gown which she had designed herself and a bathing suit which contest officials gave her. That was all she needed.

Her luggage, lost on an airliner that brought her here last week hasn't caught up with her yet.

She scored heavily in the bathing suit and evening gown competitions but it was her naturalness and humor in the poise and personality talks that won her the judges' nod.

Contestants were asked to give a brief speech on "the most important thing in my life." Miss South Carolina brought down the house when she told the big crowd at Municipal Auditorium that the most important thing in "mah life was to get mah luggage back."

Runners-up in the contest were in this order: Miss Virginia, Ellen Whitehead, an 18-year-old Chatham, Va., brunette; Miss New York State, Karin Huitman, 22, of Rochester; Miss New York City, Renee Roy, 23-year-old actress, and Miss Texas, 20-year-old Betty Lee of Austin, one of the tallest girls in the contest.

Miss Virginia, who gave the winner stiff competition, took her loss cheerfully and said, "it went to the prettier girl."

Miss South Carolina is a senior at Lander College in Greenwood, S. C. She is a major in home economics and can cook and sew. She wants to get married but says she wants to take a crack at a movie contract.

She also wins a new convertible, plus a number of other prizes.

Tonight she and the foreign beauties will go through preliminaries of the Miss Universe contest. Judging will last late into the night, with the finals tomorrow night.

US, Britain Agree To Confer On Alliance For Southeast Asia

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, Britain and other friendly nations have agreed to call an international conference late next month to write a defensive alliance designed to protect the non-Communist lands of Southeast Asia against Communist conquest.

The agreement was reached, these officials said, among Secretary of State Dulles, Undersecretary Walter Bedell Smith, British Foreign Secretary Eden and others at Geneva after it became certain that the fighting in Indochina would be ended by negotiated peace with the Communists.

Some officials told a reporter the meeting probably will be held some place in the Asian area and that the level of representation—Foreign Ministers or persons of lesser rank — is yet to be determined.

Terrific Explosion Blows Up Building, Kills At Least 3

CRANBURY, N.J. (AP)—A terrific explosion blew a building to bits at the Unexcelled Chemical Co. plant today, killing at least three workers and injuring nine others.

The firm, one of the state's largest fireworks manufacturers, had been working on government munitions contracts exclusively in recent months, a spokesman said.

It was the nation's third fatal blast in a similar installation within a week. At least 13 persons were killed last Friday in explosions in Chicago and Chestertown, Md.

State Police Lt. William Sawyer, regional civilian defense coordinator for central New Jersey, said the blast occurred in a building loaded with fuses that had been rejected by the U.S. Army.

Benjamin Crowley of Unexcelled said 300 persons were at work at the time of the explosion.

Worst Water Shortage

Survey Reveals More Springs, Wells Dry Than Ever Before In Central Missouri

COLUMBIA (AP)—Central Missouri farmers are face to face with the worst water shortage on record, a survey of local conditions revealed today, but those with deep wells are still getting a normal supply and indications are that that supply is in no danger.

But more springs and shallow wells have gone dry than in any previous season, and observers say that there can be no relief until soaking rains come.

Rainfall in Columbia for the year to date is now more than 25 inches below normal, and the situation is worse this year than in the drought years of the 1930's because those droughts were separated by a year of plentiful rainfall. The drought years of the 1950's now number three in a row with no opportunity to replenish soil moisture. Tests at the McCredie Experiment Station, east of Columbia, for instance, show that land which was planted to corn last year is deficient in moisture to a depth of 48 inches. Spring rains replenished only the top 18 inches and that moisture was quickly used up by this year's crops. The soil now is void of moisture.

D. D. Smith, research associate with the University of Missouri here, called the 100-plus degree temperatures and 15 per cent humidity readings of recent days "desert conditions" and added:

"Corn, pastures and soybeans, crops which we grow here, just can't survive desert or near desert conditions."

The hot dry summer winds have seared crops and dried up smaller ponds and creeks. Livestock water is scarce.

The conditions are similar throughout the state. A survey conducted by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee and the State Agricultural Extension Service, with county agents in every county reporting, today placed the condition of the state's corn crop at 45 per cent of normal and said that pastures are down to 40 per cent of normal, with the amount of damage growing daily.

Some farmers are in a little better shape for feed than a year ago because of spring hay and silage crops, but on the other hand, heavy grasshopper damage is being added to the drought loss, the reports showed. In fact, in some areas the grasshopper plague has been worse than the drought.

Car-Truck Accident Kills One, Hurts 4

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. (AP)—An auto-truck crash just north of Cape Girardeau yesterday killed Linwood Schriner, 29, of nearby Jackson and injured four other persons.

Schriner and the injured were in the car. Charles E. Gilbert, Kansas City, the truck driver, escaped injury.

1056 New Polio Cases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service reported today there were 1,056 new cases of polio over the nation last week, the first time this year the total has passed 1,000 for a week.

The total was nearly 200 less than the 1,245 cases in the corresponding 1953 week.

17 New Polio Cases

JEFFERSON CIT Y(AP) — Missouri had 17 new cases of infantile paralysis (polio) last week, the State Division of Health reported today. They raised the year's total to date to 85.

At the same time a year ago 175 cases had been reported, including 42 in the corresponding week.

Adds Two Questions To Job Application

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government said today it has added two new questions to the application form which persons must fill out when seeking federal jobs. They are:

"Have you ever had a nervous breakdown?"

"Have you ever had tuberculosis?"

Announcing the first major revision since 1947 of the application blank known as Form 57, the Civil Service Commission said the chief aim was improved clarity and appearance.

Baruch Praises Ike's Awareness

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bernard M. Baruch lunched with President Eisenhower today and later praised the President as a man who knows "what's going on" in the country.

Crossroads Comment . . . by G.H.S.

"Heat Reported Damaging Nut Crop," reads a headline. If the original status of the nuts can be further damaged what chance is there for us sane guys, the coffee club member wants to know.

Just to indicate what effects the heat can have, the Democrat has been trying to induce the cool front to move in faster by running next week's date lines on this week's pages. Even the TVs have got the flutters. Great balls of fire!! Get out the salt box.

A strange animal is frightening farmers near Hancock, Md. They say the animal's wild screams resemble the screech of an hysterical woman. Those hill-country Marylanders sure know the kind of noises that frighten them.

Blame the heat for an innovation in Hartford, Conn. Peeping Toms are being superceded by Peeping Blondes who "run like the dickens" according to the male member of the family who chased her. This could develop into an entertaining sport and also give pa a valid excuse to get loose for an evening out.

Seek Reason Lavenia Not A Good Risk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said today the Senate Investigations subcommittee is "trying for an elemental factor in American justice" in seeking an explanation for the denial of security clearance to Thomas W. Lavenia.

The Defense Department has refused to clear Lavenia, office manager and assistant counsel to the subcommittee, to handle secret documents. It has declined to say why on grounds that to do so would require disclosure of confidential information.

"Somebody's got to say this boy is guilty of something," Mundt said in an interview. He is ranking Republican member of the subcommittee headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

McCarthy accused the Defense Department last night of having "improperly maligned" Lavenia. He made public letters demanding that representatives of the Defense and Justice Departments appear at a closed session tomorrow to explain the denial of clearance.

McCarthy said he had written Secretary of Defense Wilson:

"The department's refusal to supply us information in this case leaves a cloud upon both the department and Mr. Lavenia . . . To hide behind a technicality that the information is of a 'confidential nature' helps neither Mr. Lavenia nor your department in what appears to be much more than merely an unfortunate situation."

The New York Times reported in a Washington dispatch, meanwhile, that administration and congressional sources said they expected the "early resignation" of John G. Adams as counselor of the Army.

Adams was a key figure in the row between McCarthy and Secretary of the Army Stevens and their aides, which the subcommittee investigated at 36 days of public hearings. The Times said pressures for Adams' resignation had been developing since the hearings ended June 17, and it added:

"Now informed officials expect him to go, perhaps before the final report, with recommendations, is made . . . within the Eisenhower administration, it was acknowledged at a high level that Mr. Adams would go but that he might be given another position outside the Army Department."

Adams, reported vacationing in Canada, could not be reached for comment. Secretary Stevens was also out of Washington. Secretary Wilson told a news conference Tuesday he had asked for no resignations in the wake of the McCarthy-Army hearings and that none were pending.

Roy M. Cohn, who like Adams was a key figure in the hearings, resigned this week as subcommittee chief counsel.

Lavenia, a former Secret Service man, told newsmen he thinks the reason he wasn't cleared now is that in 1936, as a student at the St. Johns University Law School in Brookly, N.Y., he was elected vice president of the American Law Students Assn., a group McCarthy has termed Leftist. Lavenia said he attended only one meeting and walked out of it.

Chicago Barber Admits Daylight Loan Firm Holdups; Got $3,000

ST. LOUIS (AP)—John R. Bloom, Chicago barber, has admitted two daylight loan company hollups yesterday in which $3,000 was taken.

Special Officers John Ferry and Harry Plaisted, who made the arrest a half hour after the second holdup in South St. Louis, said a gun and $3,018 in cash was recovered from Bloom.

Also, the officers said, he had a list of 27 St. Louis area loan firms.

A bandit took $2,000 from the Community Federal Savings and Loan Association in suburban St. Johns. The man stuffed the money and his gun into a grocery shopping bag before leaving.

An hour later a man entered the Public Service Savings and Loan Co. in South St. Louis and took $1,000. Employes watched him leave in a car and gave police the license number and description of the vehicle.

No charge was filed against Bloom immediately.

Ex-Soldier Says He Is Phantom Slayer Who Terrorized 4 States

SHREVEPORT, La., (AP) — A tall, burn-scarred ex-soldier says he is the notorious phantom slayer who terrorized a four-state area around Texarkana, Tex.-Ark., in 1946.

The 36-year-old Stamps, Ark., man walked into Shreveport police headquarters late last night and said he wanted to confess, police reported, because his "conscience was bothering him."

Five persons were killed by the phantom in the spring of 1946 and no trace of the slayer was ever found. Texas Rangers have been working on the case continuously.

Texarkana, Tex., Police Chief Max Tackett and the Miller County, Ark., Deputy Sheriff Tillman Johnson left Texarkana as soon as they were informed of the man's "confession." They said his story may be "another one of the confessions made by cranks" but that they believed the information should be throughly checked.

Detective Capt. Wayne Bateman of the Shreveport Police Department said the suspect was a "weird looking" giant weighing about 225 pounds and more than six feet tall.

Bateman said the man's arms were covered with scars from his fingers to the shoulders. The suspect told officers he punished himself for the "terrible crimes I have committed" by burning his arms with cigarettes.

The man said he committed the crimes while he was a soldier stationed at Barksdale Field in Shreveport. He is married and has a 15-year-old daughter by a previous marriage.

Bateman said the man told him that he killed the first couple on a road leading into Texas.

"All I got out of that was a lousy 27 bucks," he said. He denied having raped the girl but said, "I messed with her a little bit. I didn't hurt her much."

He told Bateman he killed a younger couple later and that he mutilated the body of the girl "pretty badly." He said that he attended the funeral of the younger girl and went to her house.

He said that he also killed a man on Highway 67 and that he tried to kill the man's wife and shot her in the mouth but she got away.

"She deserved to get the Congressional Medal of Honor for getting away. I chased her a quarter of a mile and tried my best to get her. I shot her with a .410 over-and-under gun."

The so-called "phamtom murders" all occurred in the spring of 1946.

The phamtom struck in three-week intervals, the first attack being in February and resulted in severe injury to a young insurance man and his girl companion. The phamtom brutally beat the couple but both of them recovered.

The first killing was on March 24. The bodies of Richard Griffin, 29, and Miss Polly Ann Moore, 17, were found in a car. Both had been shot with .32 caliber gun.

Three weeks later on April 3, the bodies of Betty Joe Booker, 15, and her escort Paul Martin, 17, were found shot to death. The bodies were found a mile apart. They, too, were shot with a .32 caliber gun identical to the weapon that killed the other couple.

Miss Booker's body was mutilated.

The last killing attributed to the phamtom was that of Virgil Starks. He was shot in his home on Highway 67 and his wife was shot in the mouth but she recovered.

US Indicts Grunewald For Perjury

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry W. (The Dutchman) Grunewald reputed Washington wire-puller, was indicted here today on charges that he lied repeatedly in denying tax-fixing activities under the Truman administration.

The indictment, returned by a federal grand jury, accused Grunewald of committing perjury 10 times in recent appearances before the jury itself and in testimony during April, 1953, before a House Ways and Means subcommittee investigating tax scandals.

The multiple charges in the indictment carry possible penalties up to $12,000 in fines and 70 years imprisonment.

Grunewald, 62, who became an associate of prominent persons in the capital and a man of mystery, made some appearances before the grand jury late last year when he was completing a 90-day jail sentence for contempt of Congress.

That sentence, which included a $1,000 fine, resulted from Grunewald's refusal in 1952 to give the House Investigating Committee anything more than his name when he answered a subpoena to testify. The jail term was originally suspended.

However, Grunewald and a woman companion were found apparently overcome by gas in a Jersey City apartment in August, 1953 and he was made to serve the time, on grounds that he had left the jurisdiction of the District of Columbia courts without permission.

Today's indictment charges Grunewald male false statements both to the committee and the jury in connection with his associations with Daniel A. Bolich, one-time assistant internal revenue commissioner. Bolich now is under indictment on charges of wilfully evading income taxes while he was the nation's No. 2 tax collector.

Grunewald testified that he never discussed any tax case with Bolich. The jury said this was untrue, and notel that Bolich had occupied Grunewald's hotel suite here while he was assistant commissioner.

A portion of the indictment was based on Grunewald's statements to the House committee that he had "not done anything" in a tax case involving Harold Salvey of Miami, Fla., except to introduce Salvey to a private attorney.

Salvey was described in testimony before the Kefauver Committee as being associated with a gambling syndicate.

The grand jury said Grunewald had discussed the Salvey case with Bolich and other internal revenue officials and "had attempted to dissuade them from sending said case to the Department of Justice with a recommendation that criminal proceedings be instituted." The jury said Grunewald was paid money for his services in that case.

Tom Ireland Listed In Negro Yearbook

G. Thomas Ireland, 1001 North Osage, is listed in the 11th edition of The Negro Yearbook, a record of progress and achievement in all fields by the Negro race.

Under "Negroes Employed by General Publication," Ireland's name appears among the names of Negroes on the mechanical side of publication, as follows: G. Tom Ireland, pressman, Sedalia Democrat-Capital (Mo.)"

Ireland for many years was employed on the Sedalia Democrat-Capital, retiring only a few years ago. His entire career was spent in working on newspapers here and other towns, but most of the time on the Democrat-Capital.

Marine Recruiter Sent to Kansas City

Sgt. William Sanford, who served as Marine Corps recruiter for Sedalia and surrounding area since he was sent here last October, has been transferred to the Kansas City main recruiting station to work in the supply section.

The Sedalia Marine recruiting office will continue to be run by T.Sgt. Charles Erickson, who was assigned here several months before the arrival of Sgt. Sanford. The office is located in the Sedalia post office building.

Ex-Con Held In Crystal City Murder

CRYSTAL CITY (AP)—An ex-convict was held today in the killing of Louis Otto, 19-year-old Crystal City youth. The victim's body, shot in the chest and neck, was found early today near a road about 15 miles north of here.

The ex-convict, John Phillips, 46, is being held by Illinois State Police at Waterloo, Ill. Phillips, who had been picked up Monday night after wrecking Otto's car, last night admitted stealing the car in a statement to Illinois State Police but blamed the shooting on a soldier he said he was hitch-hiking with.

Sheriff Leo Church of Jefferson County, which is south of St. Louis County, said a fugitive warrant will be issued and Prosecuting Attorney Earl Saunders will prepare a complaint charging Phillips with first degree murder.

Otto, the son of Mrs. Henrietta Otto, had been missing since he left here Monday afternoon for House Springs, in the northern part of the county. He was employed at a concession stand at the swimming pool there.

His body was found in a weed patch near a road two miles from Barnhart. Police said the body was badly decomposed but the only item known to be missing was the youth's wallet, which contained a $65 paycheck.

Illinois police found the wallet, minus the check, and a gun in Otto's car Monday night.

Phillips told Illinois police he had been hitch-hiking from Cape Girardeau, Mo., Monday with a soldier, whose name he didn't know. He said they were picked up by Otto just north of here.

After they reached Barnhart and had turned two miles west, Phillips said, the soldier pulled a gun and threatened to rob the youth.

The ex-convict told Illinois police the soldier followed the youth when he left the car and shot him twice. Phillips said he then drove the soldier to East St. Louis, Ill., where he let him out, then drove to Waterloo about 15 miles south of East St. Louis, to visit friends.

Phillips said he was returning to East St. Louis when he wrecked the car near Columbia, Ill., Illinois police said the ex-convict at first refused to answer questions about the car and was held.

Street Paving Remains Mystery to Officials

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—City officials are very well pleased with street conditions on College Drive.

Mayor Jesse Webb Jr. yesterday knelt and patted the blacktop. Public Works Director J. Lester White waxed eloquent over the workmanship and valued it at several thousand dollars.

Neither the city nor the state did the paving and they don't know who did.

Two Girls Try Suicide Pact, One Is Dead

NEW YORK (AP)—The family of 19-year-old Helene Jacobs kept a vigil today as the shapely brunette remained unconscious following a mystery suicide pact with another girl.

Her companion, Madeline Jean Sommer, also 19 and a beautiful blonde, was found dead yesterday in the East Side art gallery-apartment where the girls turned on gas after a night of wine drinking.

Both girls, clad only in scany night clothes, left farewell notes.

Miss Jacobs still groaned when the building superintendent broke into the apartment. She was taken to Roosevelt Hospital where her condition appeared improving.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jacobs of Chicago, and an uncle, Philip Goodman, flew to New York late in the day after police notified them.

As Mrs. Jacobs, her eyes brimmed with tears, stepped off the plane, her first words were "is she dead?"

Meanwhile, police had questioned relatives of the dead girl, who had been missing for a week from her Bergenfield, N. J., home.

Two days ago the missing persons bureau here had been alerted to look for Madeline, who was described as having had "suicidal endencies."

Mrs. Irene Sommer, her widowed mother; Miss Judy Sommer, a sister, and another relative, Frank J. Vagish, of Scarsdale, N.Y., were questioned by police.

Madeline did not explain why she wanted to kill herself. All she left was a terse note asking that her mother be notified.

Helene, however, left a lengthy letter, which said in part:

"Today I die. Not as casually as I should, but then I've always been spasmodically violent anyway. I died simply enough because I haven't enough life within me to nourish myself through long, long years. Be as kind to yourselves as you have ever been to me and be as kind to yourselves as I have been cruel. Love Mark and listen to him."

Mrs. Jacobs, who was given the note, explained tearfully that "Mark" was the girl's brother, who was in Chicago and "all right."

Helene had been attending summer classes at Columbia University. The combination art gallery apartment on East 6th Street off 5th Avenue was lent to her for the summer by the management of the Rose Fried Gallery. Miss Rose Fried, who operates it, now is vacationing in Europe. She is a friend of the Jacobs family.

Miss Jacobs' father is a prominent Chicago labor lawyer.

Kennett Negro Children Face Difficult Choice

KENNETT, Mo. (AP) — Some Negro children in southeastern Missouri public schools are facing a difficult choice between integration and cotton vacations.

It came as a strange outgrowth of the Supreme Court decision outlawing segregation in public schools.

Many schools of this cotton-growing section have for years declared a cotton vacation of about six weeks in the fall to permit the pupils to earn money by helping with the cotton picking.

The Kennett School Board meets tonight with 18 Negro high school pupils and their parents to offer them admission in September to the previously all-white Kennett high school, which has no cotton vacation.

Lawrence L. Bradley, president of the board, said the Negroes will be given their choice of attending the Kennett school or continuing in the all-Negro high school at nearby Hayti, which does have cotton vacation.

Bradley said the Negroes must make their decision as a group.

At Clarkton, President Charles B. James of the School Board said 16 Negro pupils in the area had been invited to attend the previously all-white Clarkton school but that none had accepted.

The schools opened last Monday, to permit time this fall for the cotton harvest vacation.

James said failure of the Negroes to show up might have been due to a misunderstanding and that hte invitation to them would be renewed today. In previous years the Negroes, three of them of high school age and the others in grade school, have attended an all-Negro school at Malden.

Fire Sweeps Business Building; Damage Set at $100,000

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Fire swept the R. J. Roper building in suburban Sugar Creek last night, causing damage estimated at $100,000. For two hours the flames were fought by fire companies from Sugar Creek, Intercity and Independence.

Syngman Rhee Flies Sunday To See Ike

SEOUL (AP)—Stubborn old President Syngman Rhee leaves Sunday for Washington, probably to be told there is almost no hope of realizing his fondest dream—a Republic of Korea embracing the Communist-ruled north.

It was announced today that Rhee would leave Sunday instead of Saturday in the private plane of Gen. John E. Hull, U. S. Far East commander.

He is due in Washington Monday afternoon.

Ostensibly the 79-year-old President is going to Washington to discuss a new unification policy with President Eisenhower, since the Geneva conference failed. And publicly he still rallies South Korea's 22 million people with the cry "go north."

But an informed government source says privately Rhee has all but abandoned hope of seeing this divided and war-shattered peninsula reunited before he dies.

President Eisenhower's Far East advisers almost certainly have told him that North Korea must be written off as a loss to the Communists, observers here say.

Intelligence reports from North Korea indicate Red China has turned the area into a vassal state, tied tightly to Peiping both politically and economically.

If unification is all but a dead issue, the agenda for the top level Washington talks slated to open Monday will include the vital need of pumping more vigor into South Korea's economy and strengthening its army.

Woman Is Killed, Two Are Hurt In Wreck

ROCKAWAY BEACH, Mo. (AP)—One woman was killed and two others injured last night in an automobile accident on Highway 76 just east of Rockaway Beach in Taney County.

Killed was Betty Johnson, 21, St. Louis. Injured were Iola Barron, St. Louis, and Ann Rea, 20, St. Louis. Their car went out of control and left the highway.

The injured girls were taken to a Branson, Mo., hospital.

Waterfield-Reger Nuptials In City

Miss Betty Jean Waterfield, daughter of Mrs. Dixie Waterfield, 1004 West Fifth, became the bride of Mr. Richard Lee Reger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Reger, Warrensburg, at 6 o'clock in the evening, Saturday, May 29, at the home of the bride's mother. The Rev. Walter P. Arnold, pastor of the East Sedalia Baptist Church, performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of members of the immediate families of the couple.

The bride selected a blue suit for her wedding with which she wore white accessories and her corsage was of pink and white carnations.

Miss Sara Reger, sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's only attendant. Miss Reger wore a dark blue dress with white accessories.

Mr. Edward Doughtery, Fayette, nephew of the bride, served as best man for Mr. Reger.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in home. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and was centered with a three-tier wedding cake ornamented with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

The bride is employed at the Lamy Manufacturing Company in Sedalia.

The bridegroom is employed at Warrensburg by the Missouri Public Service.

The couple left immediately for the Lake of the Ozarks on a wedding trip and is now at home at 1104 East Fifth, Sedalia.

Discuss Flower Show For Fall

KNOB NOSTER — The Knob Noster Garden Club met with Mrs. Cassie Underwood Friday afternoon. Mrs. Underwood, president, conducted the business meeting. The flower show which is to be held in September, was discussed and reports were made from various committees.

Mrs. Charles Peterman reported on the Junior Garden Club, which she sponsored. The junior club members had a pot-luck dinner of the vegetables raised in their gardens. They displayed arrangements of flowers, which they had done.

Mrs. F. M. Crowder, who substituted for Miss Florence Beaty, gave a report on "A New Green Carpet For Your Outdoor Living Room."

Mrs. Peterman presented an article on "Foliar Feeding". Mrs. Zibbia Matthews, Archer City, Tex., and Miss Rena Lay were guests.

Refreshments were served.

Scouters Plan Coming Events For Boy Scouts

Boy Scout leaders planned Wednesday night for a colored troops' swim meet, for ushering by the Scouts at the State Fair, for the second annual rodeo and the conservation court of honor.

There was good attendance at the Scouters' round table meeting held at the Missouri Public Service Co. building and interest in all the coming projects was high.

Troops 55, Sedalia, and 76, Slater, will be in the swim meet for colored boys at Hubbard Park. September was decided upon as the month for the rodeo, and October will see the conservation roundup and court of honor.

Eagle requirements were also discussed and plans were made for a National Rifle Association program for the explorers.

After the meeting, the men enjoyed a watermelon feed at Liberty Park, the melons being provided by Dr. Lawrence Geiger, president of the Lake of the Ozarks Council. Attending were: Julius Stonr, Red Moody, Clyde Waggoner, Paul Anthes, Carl Neal, Leo Coxson, L. C. Heuerman, Charles Farley and Cline Cain.

Lovelace Extension Club Plans a Display

The Lovelace Extension Club met July 15 at the home of Mrs. Walton Branstetter, Mrs. Logan Siegel presiding.

The meeting was used mostly to plan for the club's achievement day display. Mrs. Ada Branstetter reported on "Foot Care."

Roll call was answered by six members, who told of their favorite summertime meal.

The next meeting will be a picnic at Liberty Park, Aug. 7.

Pleasant Green 4-H Club Plans a Tour

The Pleasant Green 4-H Club met July 20 at the school house, where a local tour was planned.

In this tour the members will go to different homes and judge livestock. They will start at Paul Chevalier's at 2 p.m. Aug. 8.

Bettye Templeton gave a demonstration of food preparation.

Due to the extreme heat, the Bennett Springs trip was postponed.

Thirteen members and six leaders were present. The next meeting will be in connection with the tour, on Aug. 8.

Popular Civilians Arrive at Air Base

ENID, Okla. (AP) — A popular bunch of civilians arrived at Vance Air Force Base yesterday.

They are the advance guard of Nationwide Food Services Inc., a Chicago catering firm, which will do KP at Vance on an experimental basis for 11 months beginning Aug 1.

Nationwide, under the contract, will furnish all kitchen police and cooks while the Air Force furnishes the food and equipment.

This is the Defense Deparment's first such experiment to determine whether private contractors can do the job cheaper than the military.

Dr. Cunningham To Michigan St. Extension Post

Dr. Clyde R. Cunningham, University of Missouri horticulture extension specialist, has been appointed district extension marketeering specialist at Michigan State College at East Lansing, effective Sept. 1.

He is a brother of Jack Cunningham, Sedalia, and is associated with him in ownership of the Sedalia Ice and Cold Storage Co.

Dr. Cunningham has been working as a vegetable specialist for the Missouri extension service since 1940. Since he was graduated with a B. S. in Agriculture from the University in 1939, he has worked as an assistant and associate county agent in gardening in Jackson County from 1940 to 1944; as extension horticulturist in 1944-46; as assistant state extension agent in 1947-50; and, as extension horticulturist since 1950.

Advanced Degrees at M. U.

He received his master's degree in 1946 and completed work for his doctorate in 1953.

In the past three years, Dr. Cunningham has written a weekly article for Missouri gardeners which has circulated in newspapers throughout the state. He has also made 20 radio transcriptions on vegetable production in the last two years that were used by stations in the extension network system. He has supplied county agents and vegetable growers on improved methods of growing vegetables.

Will Set Up Marketing System

His work at Michigan State will be part of a newly expanded program to improve the marketing of agricultural produce. Dr. Cunningham will be in charge of setting up an improved marketing system for the vegetable industry.

He is married and has two sons, Hal, 7, and Kim, 2.

Dr. J. H. Faurot To California

Dr. Jean H. Faurot, Marshall, who has been professor of philosophy at Missouri Valley College and has preached at the Knob Noster Presbyterian Church for over five years, has accepted a position in the Sacramento State College, Sacramento, Calif., where he, his wive and daughters, Jeanette and Mary expect to move next week.

Butler Feared Federal Control Of Basin Water

WASHINGTON (AP) — Just before he died, Sen. Hugh Butler (R-Neb) wrote letters to other senators from Missouri Basin states saying he feared a proposed water compact among the basin states might hand control to the federal government.

The letters, made public today, were written by Butler, chairman of the Senate Interior Committee, the day before he was stricken. The letters actually were not sent until a few days after his death on July 1.

"If such a compact is ratified," he wrote, "the United States would be given control of the basin water resources."

Butler asked the senators to study a legal brief which stated an interstate compact supercedes state laws, where there is a conflict.

"We cannot move hastily in the circumstances, and I suggest only that caution be the watchword of the officials of the states involved," he said.

A bill, which would grant the consent of Congress to the negotiation of a compact for the disposition, diversion and control of waters of the Missouri River and its tributaries, had been discussed in public hearings before Butler's committee.

It would give permission for Colorado, Kansas, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, Wyoming and South Dakota to enter the compact.

Southeast Missouri Has First Good Rain In Over Two Months

POPLAR BLUFF (AP) — Most of southeastern Missouri today reported its first substantial rain in 2½ months.

Scattered but fairly general thundershowers brought some relief from the prolonged drought last night and again today, with rainfall averaging possibly half an inch.

Joe Scott, Dunklin County agent, said the rain will greatly benefit cotton, which had been stunted by the heat and drought. It also benefitted soubeans and pastures and perhaps late corn.

Most of the corn crop has virtually been destroyed.

Retired Newspaperman Dies at Moberly Home

MOBERLY, Mo. (AP)—Fred Dudley Moffett, 76, a retired newspaperman, died at his home here late yesterday.

He had never fully recovered from burns suffered in his home a year and a half ago when he apparently fell asleep in a chair while smoking a cigarette.

Born at Gratiot, Wis., his first news work was as a reporter for the Fort Smith (Ark.) Times-Record. His career included posts on the Joplin (Mo.) Globe, the Monterey News in Old Mexico, the Cherryvale (Kan.) Journal, the Excelsior Springs (Mo.) Daily Standard, and the Kansas City Star.

Bill Arnold In Air Force Past 11 Years

By Mrs. Verna Palmer

GREEN RIDGE — Bill Arnold, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Streit and family will report on August 1, at Marshall, Tex., for re-enlistment in the U. S. Air Force. He has completed 11 years of service in the Air Force. Lester Barn, Denver, Colo., who was in the Air Force with Arnold is also a guest in the Streit home.

Lyle Bennett, who has been serving as an architect in the U. S. Park Service for 27 years, of which 18 years have been spent at Santa Fe, N.M., has been assigned to the San Francisco office of the service. He and his family are making their home at Ross, Calif. Mr. Bennett is the son of R. A. Bennett.

Mr. and Mrs. Vance Gilless, who have been making their home at Burlington, Ia., were recent guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Morrow and daughter, Shelley Sue at their home on highway 127.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilless left Thursday for Hobbs, N. M., where they expect to make their home.

J. L. Purchase, Jr., had the misfortune to injure his hand in a hay bailer while at work recently. Several stitches were required to close the wound.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Anderson, Kansas City, were guests over the weekend of his mother, Mrs. Beulah Anderson at her home here.

Mrs. Bruce McCampbell of Santa Rosa, Calif., is visiting her brothers, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. George and children here and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. George and children in Sedalia. She will also visit Mr. and Mrs. Arnold George and daughters at their home in Windsor. Following a three weeks visit with relatives and friends in Missouri she will return to her home.

Mrs. Nellie Reed returned Tuesday, following a few days visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Robbins and sons at Odessa. Miss Madge Ream accompanied Mrs. Reed for a visit with her brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ream and sons, and Phillip Ream. Miss Madge Ream makes her home at Belleville, Ill., where she is English teacher in high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Inselman accompanied by his daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hand and son, Richard, Windsor, spent a few days on a vacation trip to southwest Missouri and northern Arkansas recently. While away they visited Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Pourron at Rogers, Ark. The Pourrons are former residents of the Green Ridge community.

Says Builders Got FHA Help With Profits

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Los Angeles builder told investigating senators today that Federal Housing Administration (FHA) officials taught builders exactly how to profit from a postwar government-backed housing program without putting up "any capital."

The witness, Arthur B. Weber, said he couldn't remember the name of the FHA man he said came from Washington to tell him and other builders how to make money from the government program.

Weber, testifying under oath, said that he cleared $387,543 on two projects and later sold his interest in them for an additional profit of $125,000.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind), chairman of the Senate Banking Committee which is conducting the housing investigation, asked Weber: "Do you feel that you were promoted in this" by the FHA?

Weber replied: "There is no question about that. Frankly, I wish we had never seen them. We acted in good faith. Our hands were tied."

Earlier, Sen. Maybank (D-SC), senior Democrat on the committee said FHA officials should act at once to "cut back on windfall profits and reduce the inflated rents of tenants who are paying for them."

"Everybody's made money in these housing project deals except the tenant," he said. "He's the guy who's been paying for it."

Pet Raccoon Has Meal Of 71 Chicks, Hides In Owner's Attic

WATERVLIET, Mich. (AP)—Nancy a pet raccoon really hated to eat and run — but that's the way it had to be.

Clarence Cowgill told sheriff's deputies he spotted Nancy making a bee-line from his chicken coop without stopping to apologize for breakfasting on 71 of his 2-month-old chicks.

Nancy rushed down the road to her home with the Earle Blanchans. But instead of going to her pen, she apparently thought the attic would be a safer place for a chicken-stuffed raccoon.

In trying to get her down, deputies awoke 13-year-old Alice Brock who said: "I could have gotten Nancy down if you hadn't scared her. She's afraid of strangers."

Nancy was put back in her pen.

Bob Thomas In Hollywood---

If You Were Debbie Reynolds, You'd Own Scads of Clothes

By HUBBARD KEAVY
(For BOB Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—If you, young lady, were in Debbie Reynolds' shoes (any of her 142 pairs) you would have to have scads of clothes, too. You would keep them in closets too small, in boxes under all of the beds in your tiny house and in the garage made into a guest room.

You would have four very formal formals and at least 20 short formals. You would wear your formals about once a year, because as a movie starlet you couldn't let your admirers down by wearing the same outfit too often.

You'd wear a size five dress, but if you couldn't find fives you'd buy sevens and have your mother alter them. You'd watch for sales and buy in quantity. For instance, the other day you would have bought 20 pairs of shoes (sizes 4 and 4½) because they were on sale. You'd have taken only 45 minutes for this sizeable purchase.

If you were Debbie you'd have "oh, a whole mess of cocktail dresses and suits—maybe 15 in all." And you'd remember what you wore each time you went out with Eddie Fisher, because if you were Debbie you'd be dating Eddie.

You'd have drawers full of slacks and pedal pushers, of shorts and T-shirts, boxes of sweaters (some not yet out of their factory wrapping) and a dozen swimming suits. "Funny thing," you'd say if you were this girl, "when I couldn't afford swimming suits I always had one faded one. Now that I can afford them, people give them to me."

In your wardrobe also would be 30 skirts and, I know because I counted them for you, 45 blouses. And an uncounted number of winter suits and jersey blouses which I couldn't count because they were in the cedar chest I was sitting on in Debbie's bedroom.

You wouldn't have too many furs because you don't like them too well. The demands of the business would require two: "a beaver coat for winter and a platinum mink stole are all I have." You'd have two dressy evening sweaters, both in white, one trimmed in white mink and one in gold leaf.

All of your $750 weekly salary wouldn't be spent on clothes, if you were Debbie. Only a very small portion of it, actually, because your mother would make more than half your dresses. And you'd keep on wearing things for years and years because your height and weight would stay the same.

Jewelry would be unimportant; a few pieces of costume jewelry. That's all that would be in your jewel box except an even dozen fraternity pins (no two alike) but "they're not jewelry—heck, they're—well, you know how fellas are."

You'd choose simple things in gay, happy colors. You wouldn't want stuff that is too frilly "because men don't like girls like me to be TOO feminine, do they? What I mean is, skip the ixy-poo."

(I know about this interpretive writing, boos, but I'm a square—can't dig that ixy-poo.)

Postal Pay Hike Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—House members, after rebuffing the Eisenhower alministration's bid for higher postal rates, raced today to force before-adjournment action on a controversial pay raise for half a million Post Office employes.

Administration leaders lost out yesterday in an all-or-nothing effort to pass a one-package bill to boost postage charges by 233 millions a year and postal workers' pay by 5 per cent.

Brought up under procedure requiring a two-thirds majority for approval, the measure mustered a 228-171 vote, 33 short of the needed majority.

Immediately, enough members signed a petition to force out of a committee pigeonhole an administration-opposed bill to raise postal salaries 7 per cent. Such a petition needs 218 signatures, a majority of the 435 House members.

Rep. Corbett (R-Pa), author of the 7 per cent bill, told newsmen this insures action on a pay bill.

Unless GOP leaders decide to go along, however, here was doubt that the bill could be brought to the floor before Congress adjourns. Under House rules, it could not be considered before Aug. 9, and congress is shooting for adjournment by July 31.

It appeared more likely that leaders would call up the administration 5 per cent pay bill that was rejected along with postal rate increases.

Two Local Men Among Recruits At Guard Camp

Two Sedalians are among the more than 800 recruits enrolled in the five recruit schools which began work Monday at Camp McCoy, Wis., for the 35th Infantry Division, Missouri National Guard.

They are Pvt. Robert G. Arnett and Pvt. George G. Fairfax. One of their instructors is another Sedalian, Sergeant First Class Lester S. Harrell. All three are members of division headquarters, located at the armory.

By the end of this week, the recruits will have received instruction in such military fields as infantry drill, military courtesy, and equipment, first aid and marksmanship.

Most of the time will be devoted to training the men in the care and handling of individual weapons and firing for record.

Lions Learn Of Baseball Tournament

H. L. "Hank" Williams, commissioner of semi-pro baseball for the National Baseball Congress in Missouri, was the speaker at the Sedalia Lions Club Wednesday during the regular meeting of the organization at the Bothwell Hotel. Williams spoke on the coming Missouri State tournament which opens at the baseball stadium in Liberty Park Friday night.

Williams, who has been commissioner of Missouri's semi-pro baseball for the past several seasons, discussed the teams which have entered the 1954 tournament. He told of some of the better clubs and what local fans can expect in baseball entertainment for the next ten days.

Members of the Lions Club were invited to attend the opening of the tournament at 7:30 p. m. Friday, their entrance admission being their paidup Lions Club membership card.

Guests at the meeting were Ed. Mariner, former member of the Sedalia Club now residing in Kansas City, Kan., and John Ryan, guest of Charles Leftwich.

Lions extended their support to the show to be presented by Peg'ee Hewitt Homan, for the benefit of Pettis County Cerebral Society on Aug. 7 at Liberty Park.

Dr. David Robinson, president, presided over the meeting.

The actual length of the day is 23 hours, 56 minutes, 4.095 seconds, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Cpl. Charles Holman Serving In Korea

SEVENTH DIVISION, Korea—Cpl. Charles E. Holman, whose wife, Patricia, lives at 1510 East Fifth, Sedalia, is now serving with the Seventh Infantry Division in Korea.

Men of the "Bayonet" division are undergoing intensive training to maintain the peak combat efficiency displayed by the unit from Pusan to the Yalu River.

Cpl. Holman, son of Claude Holman, Bell, Calif., has been in the Army since 1948.

Camp McCoy Has Long History As Military Post

Camp McCoy, Wis., where the 35th Infantry Division, Missouri National Guard units are now going through their two-week summer field training, has a varied history as a military post.

It was first known as Camp Robinson, then was changed to the Sparta Ordnance Depot. Sparta, a town of some 5,000, is about five miles to the west. The camp was finally named Camp McCoy in 1926 in honor of Maj. Gen. Robert B. McCoy, Wisconsin National Guard, who served with distinction with the 32nd Division in 1918.

Camp McCoy was opened in 1908 to fill the need for an artillery training camp. The famed 100th Infantry Regiment was trained there in 1941. Then came the Second Division, followed by the 76th. At the peak of its training activities in World War II, some 35,000 to 40,000 troops were stationed there.

Since 1948 it has served chiefly as a summer field training site for National Guard and Reserve units. It contains 65,000 acres.

We're Digging a big ditch, sonny... to make your home more comfortable

This pipeliner is right. The natural gas which will pass through the steel pipe lines in this ditch will heat or cool your home automatically . . . and can do many other jobs that only gas does so well.
The giant mechanical ditch-diggers are like the fabled "seven-league" boots. When there's no rock to be blasted, they can cut a ditch four feet wide and 10 feet deep in a short time . . . as much as 14-feet a minute!
Construction of a great steel pipeline is a costly engineering undertaking . . . much more costly than it was a few years ago. But the increasing demand for gas service must be met, and Cities Service Gas Company is investing many millions every year to assure its customers dependable service.
The pipeliner is one of three members of the gas industry team serving you round-the-clock, round-the-year.
Another member is the producer, who is continually searching for additional supplies of gas for you. Third member of the team is the distributor, your local gas company, which delivers gas through a maze of underground mains and service lines to your home and factory.
And this gas industry team will continue to do its job . . . with its tremendous investments and heavy risks . . . so long as there is the incentive to encourage companies to find, produce, transport and distribute gas to the homes and industries of the nation.

"Actually, natural gas is one of my biggest bargains. It's worth every cent I pay for it... and then some."

WPFA Holds Tea to Honor Mrs. Esser

By Mrs. J. H. Coleman

PILOT GROVE — The members of the Women's Progressive Farmers Association of Pilot Grove entertained with a tea Thursday afternoon, July 15, from three to five o'clock in the new agriculture room at the high school. The tea was given in honor of Mrs. Phillip Esser, Richmond, Calif. Mrs. Esser was unable to attend because of illness in the family. Additional guests were farmer members of the club: Mrs. Andrew Krumm, Mrs. Will Schneider, Mrs. Frank Muessig, Mrs. Alfred Echerle, Mrs. Charles Schlotzhauer, Mrs. Milton Schlotzhauer, Mrs. William Piatt, Miss Rosaline Stoecklein. A short program was presented under the direction of the president, Mrs. Herman Ries. Welcome by Sharon Stoecklein; Friendship, Mrs. Arthur Hayes; and two vocal solos, "O, Baby Mine" by Jeannette Brownfield, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Harlan Brownfield playing the guitar. Contest games were played and awards made to Mrs. Alfred Echerle, Mrs. Henry Mueller and Mrs. Frank Muessig.

The serving committee consisted of Mrs. Philip Day, Mrs. Arthur Schuster and Mrs. Harlan Brownfield.

The lace-covered table was centered with a bouquet of garden flowers, flanked by two branch candelabra with burning tapers.

Wayne Roach, Ralph Rapp, Clem Twenter, Jerry Spraedy and Harold Joe Day left at 6:45 Saturday morning with the Boonville National Guard unit of the 128th Field Artillery Battalion for Camp McCoy, Wis., for their annual summer camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Day entertained Wednesday evening with a picnic supper at Choteau Park, in honor of Gerald Wirtha. The occasion was in observance of his birthday anniversary. Guests present were: Gerald Wirtha, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wirtha and family, Mrs. Frank Aggler, Mr. Carl Hayne, Miss Delores Day, Kansas City, and Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Day and family.

Mrs. Ralph Young and Mrs. Andrew Stoecklein entertained Sunday afternoon with a bridal shower in honor of Miss Patricia Braden, whose marriage to Lawrence Kempf took place Thursday, July 15th.

Garden flowers were used in the home and the color scheme, yellow and aqua, was carried out in decorations for the gift table.

Contest games were played and prizes were won by Mrs. Raymond Reuter, Mrs. Raymond Kempf and Miss Mary Helen Twenter. Refreshments of ice cream and punch were served. The yellow and aqua color scheme was also carried out in the refreshments. Besides the honoree, guests were: Miss Mary Helen Twenter, Miss Lorette Kempf, Miss Alice Kempf, Mrs. Henry Wessing Jr., Mrs. L. J. Stone Jr., Mrs. Earl Kemmerich, Mrs. Raymond Reuter, Mrs. A. J. Wolfe, Miss Agnes Kempf, Miss Mary Ann Kemmerich, Mrs. Theodore Kraus, Mrs. Cyril Wessing, Mrs. Edward Kempf and Mrs. John Kempf.

Deer Invade Army's Electronics Proving Ground, Eat Shrubs

FT. HUACHUCA, Ariz. (AP) — Invaders are causing consternation at this Army electronics proving ground.

Brig. Gen. Emil Lenzner, commanding officer, called in experts from the State Game and Fish Commission for help.

He told them herds of deer are coming down from the mountains each night to eat the newly planted shrubbery and lawns at the post.

Chief Sorrells, chief law enforcement officer for the commission, said the Army post is "the greenest spot in the country, and it's been dry up in the mountains."

Sorrells suggested:

"Wait until the rains bring out the mountain grass. Then the deer will stay home."

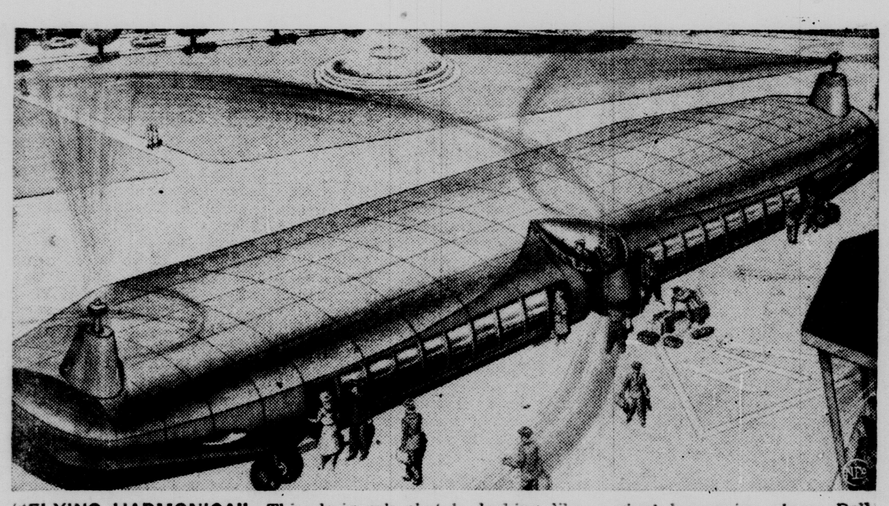
REACHING SKYWARD—David Spinney has a bumper corn crop in his Middletown, Ohio, back yard. Given the seeds last Halloween, David planted them early in March with this seven-foot-high result. Despite the excellent results, five-year-old Dave would rather be a pilot than a farmer.



"FLYING HARMONICA"—This designer's sketch, looking like a giant harmonica, shows Bell Aircraft Corporation's projected "flying wing" helicopter, now in preliminary design stages at the firm's Fort Worth, Tex., plant. The craft, a straight, flat wing, with just a bit of a nose, represents an entirely new concept of rotor-wing craft. The wing has a rotor mounted on each tip. It has two piston engines, convertible to gas turbines, either one of which can fly the wing adequately. Thickness of the wing permits completely retractable landing gear and interior placement of engines without external nacelles. All passengers will have front-facing seats with forward view. The Bell wing's speed has not been announced, except that it will exceed that of the latest model helicopters. Early models are expected to carry 20 to 50 passengers.

Korean Report—II—

US Taxpayer Can Be Proud Of Job His Dollars Get Done

SEOUL (AP) — Despite Korean criticism, the Americans responsible for overseeing aid to Korea in the last year say the taxpayer at home can take pride in the job his dollars have done.

The fighting halted a year ago next Tuesday. Since then United States and United Nations aid have cost 700 million dollars. Plans are to spend a billion more for civilian aid during the next three or four years and at least 250 million dollars a year for military aid so long as there is a threat of war in the Far East.

The Korean aid program hardly got under way before leaders in the Korean government began complaining because these millions weren't an outright gift. They wanted the money with no strings attached. Uncle Sam insisted on having a say in how the funds would be spent.

Here are a few samples of what has been done:

In the past 12 months, 175 freighters, each carrying 10,000 tons of food, clothing and other supplies, docked at Korean ports.

Doctors and nurses operating 96 hospitals and 569 dispensaries under the supervision of the Army's Korea Civil Assistance Command have been treating an average of 850,000 out-patients per month.

These dispensaries have inoculated practically the whole Korean population, and contagious disease has just about been eliminated.

American bombs and shells as well as Communist explosives knocked out about three fourths of the factories in South Korea, as well as crippling the electric and steam generated power systems to run them. Since the dismal days of 1950-1951 the average monthly power output has increased from 10-15 million kilowatt hours to 70 millions. Contracts were signed last month to spend 30 million dollars for three large steam plants which will double this output by 1956.

Milk cow and swine totals have nearly doubled since 1950. Grain production has increased six and seven times. Transportation and communications are being restored as rapidly as possible.

There are five integrated programs through which aid money for Korea is being channeled:

FOA — Foreign Operations Administration. This is the general aid program headed in Washington by Harold Stassen. It was slow getting started because of dissatisfaction from Korean government leaders. Since the war stopped it has spent 178 millions.

KCAC — Korea Civil Assistance Command. This is the U.S. Army's relief agency to care for civilians in war areas. In the past year it has expended 134 millions in Korean relief.

UNKRA — United Nations Korea Reconstruction Agency. It has spent 45 millions in the last 12 months.

AFAK—Armed forces assistance to Korea is the 8th Army's own private relief agency. It has spent 15 millions on projects since the war ended.

Military assistance—An outright gift in uniforms, equipments and supplies to the Korean army. In the past year it amounted to 350 millions.

C. Tyler Wood came to Korea last August to head FOA and coordinate the other programs. He had authority to spend 50 millions immediately. Meanwhile, the Eisenhower administration was getting a billion dollars earmarked for Korea relief, to be spread over three to five years.

Much of the aid program is invisible because it is still in the planning stage. Consequently, Koreans anxious to see factories operating and war-ravaged cities instantly rebuilt have charged waste, delay and confusion. But the Koreans who are responsible for affairs of the American taxpayer speak encouragingly and explicitly.

"Achievements are evident," says Wood. "You can walk down the streets and see there is no sign of starvation. Neither is there any lack of clothing. There have been no epidemics. Inflation has been retarded by pumping in an adequate supply of consumer goods and raw materials."

U.S. Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs says:

"Eventually we may be able to put Korea on her feet economically, but for the rest of our lives we probably will have to help Korea support her army. Remember, however, that this is a country which hates communism and wants to halt its spread in Asia. We should consider ourselves fortunate in having such a friend with the manpower to form a 20-division army. Think how much it would cost to support that many American divisions in Korea."

Korean critics of the aid program agree there is a surplus of rice and barley this year because of the import of fertilizier; farmers are being resettled everywhere and most of the schools in South Korea have reopened.

But they still want to see factories built and operated by Korean workers.

"To sum up the whole unfortunate situation U.S. aid administration to date has been more of a bureaucratic expansionism, marked by organization and reorganization, ad infinitum, than a determined honest intelligent effort to achieve the economic rehabilitation of Korea."

Would Act To Cut Back Home Profits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Maybank (D-SC) said today federal housing officials should act at once to "cut back on windfall profits and reduce the inflated rents of tenants who are paying for them."

Maybank, senior Democrat on the Senate Banking Committee, said in an interview:

"Everybody's made money in these housing project deals except the tenant. He's the guy who's been paying for it."

He declared housing officials have been slow to act on alleged abuses under various apartment project programs involving government-insured mortgages.

The committee, headed by Sen. Capehart (R-Ind), summoned several more builders to testify today in its investigation of reported irregularities in federal housing programs. They included Alexander Muss of New York, whose brother David Muss already has been heard; Alexander Korman of New Orleans, and Edward Carmach of Murfreesboro, Tenn. Capehart said all would be questioned on big apartments built with loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

Maybank said that up to a half-billion dollars in profits have come "right out of the pockets of the people who now occupy those apartments."

In speaking of "windfall" profits, he referred to those where builders or promoters pocketed the difference between an FHA-insured mortgage loan and actual construction costs. In some cases aired before the banking committee, these differences have amounted to a million dollars or more.

These are loans made by private lenders, with the FHA guaranteeing that if the borrower-builder does not make good on his loan the FHA will.

These loans are repaid primarily with income from rents. Since the inflated loans themselves must be repaidm, and not just the actual cost of the project, rents in many cases are said to be higher than the value of the property justifies. FHA requires that the rents be tied to the size of the loans.

Work, Sleep, Play In Comfort

Without Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Think Kremlin Will Try New West Split

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top U.S. officials believe the Kremlin will follow up the Indochina peace agreement with a reinforced drive to break the Western powers' anti-Communist alliance.

They expect an early and vigorous renewal of Soviet proposals made at Berlin early this year for an all-European defense treaty in which Russia would join. That plan was offered as an alternative to the European Defense Community treaty which the United States strongly urges as a means of permitting West German rearmament with French approval.

And there is considerable concern here that the Indochina agreement may throw European peoples off guard and thus make Soviet policies and propaganda aimed at a key point of the Western defense system more attractive.

Washington would like to see Western unity tightened and strengthened in the wake of the Geneva settlement. In fact, President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles give every evidence of regarding this as essential if the security of the non-Communist world is to be held against relentless expansive pressure of the Communist world.

The State Department is understood to be seeking to speed up consultations with Britain, France and other friendly governments on the formation of a Southeast Asian alliance. However Britain is reported still to be taking a "go slow" line.

There is no fear here of a Communist renewal of open military aggression in Indochina. The fear is rather that the Reds will use political and economic pressures and subversive tactics to undermine South Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos and eventually take them over. Authorities say the best way to counter this is to strengthen those states in every possible way, and primarily by creating a defensive alliance of Western and Asian nations for their protection.

Secretary Dulles was quoted as having told the House Foreign Affairs Committee at a closed session yesterday that this country had helped to obtain terms at Geneva "which would, to a degree, mitigate the effect of the military settlement upon the peoples of the Indochina area."

Miss Alma Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hall, 109 South Quincy, made the front page of the Philadelphia Inquirer, the first day she was in Philadelphia, Pa.

Alma, who is a teacher at Rawlins, Wyo., had gone to Philadelphia to visit her aunt, who is active in the American Legion Auxiliary, just prior to the Pennsylvania American Legion Convention, and was put right to work helping out on the convention. She really had been working on the job of getting ready for the big event and didn't think much about it when someone asked her to pose for a picture, but when the paper came out there she was right on the front page, a great big two column picture.

The cutline beneath the picture read: "Alma Hall, a woman Legionnaire, displays copies of the convention journal during preparations at Bellevue-Stratford for the 36th annual State Convention of the American Legion opening Wednesday. Sixty thousand visitors expected."

Scrutons Return From Long Trip And Lions Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. D. Kelly Scruton and grandson, Kelly, 724 West Third, have returned from a trip to Washington, New York, Boston, and other interesting parts in the northeast. In New York they attended the annual convention of Lions International, to which Scruton was a delegate from the Sedalia club.

At the convention, Scruton served as a member of the publicity forum for secretaries, presidents and others interested in publicity for Lions and their respective clubs.

In Ann Arbor, Mich., they visited with Dr. and Mrs. Neal Gates. Dr. Gates, formerly was stationed at the Sedalia Army Air Base, now the Sedalia Air Force Base, as flight surgeon.

Brief Costume Causes Man Here To Be Delayed

A 25 year old man was picked up at 8:12 a. m. at 16th and Osage for investigation and was detained for several hours for a check. The man was dressed in "briefed" swimming trunks and was reported walking down an alley and around a house at 1601 South Osage.

The young man told officers he was waiting for the grocery store to open to get some baby food for his children. He gave his address as route 1, Sedalia, and a check revealed him to be married, the father of three children.

He told the officers he had been in swimming and came to town before changing clothes and was "just waiting" for the store to open.

About Town

Dr. and Mrs. Oscar V. Batson, Philadelphia, Pa., are visiting Dr. Batson's mother, Mrs. J. P. Batson, 422 East Fifth. Dr. Batson is professor of anatomy in the graduate school of medicine, University of Pennsylvania.

OBITUARIES

Clauded Huffman

Claude Huffman, 76, of near Versailles died in a Sedalia rest home at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday. He had a stroke a month ago in Stover and had been in failing health since that time.

He was born July 24, 1878 in Morgan County, the son of Tom and Jane Miller Huffman and he was never married. He lived his entire life on a farm three miles west of Versailles.

Revised War Casualty List In Korea Places US Toll at 108 Less

WASHINGTON (AP) — A revised summary of battle casualties in Korea today placed the total number of American dead, wounded and missing at 142,067, a decrease of 108 since the last Defense Department report three months ago.

A Pentagon spokesman explained that the decrease in the total had resulted from a continuing correction of records and the elimination of duplications.

The summary showed an increase of 149 for a new toll of 23,345 killed in action.

The new total of wounded was 105,768, a decrease of 103. The total missing figure likewise dropped, the revised total of 12,954 being 154 less than the previous summary.

Of the total number reported missing during the 37 months of hostilities, 7,573 died, 5,130 returned to U.S. military control, 21 refused to come home after the armistice and 230 remain in the category of current missing.

Reds Ambush French, Viet-Nam Supply Line

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—The Vietminh ambushed a French-Vietnamese supply column southwest of Hanoi last night and penetrated barbed wire defenses of a defense outpost northwest of this war capital, a French army spokesman said today.

A hundred French and Vietnamese soldiers were reported wounded when the supply colmn was hit on its return trip from taking rations and ammunition to Ngabatha, 20 miles southwest of Hanoi. There was no announcement on casualties of the Communist-led rebels.

Several hundred Vietminh slashed their way through barbed wire surrounding the key defense outpost of Viettri, 40 miles northwest of Hanoi, but were beaten back before they could get into entrenched fortifications there, the officer said.

Elsewhere in the Red River Delta, to be given over to the Vietminh within 10 months under the cease-fire agreement reached at Gneva, there was a handful of light clashes in which a total of 22 Vietminh were killed and six captured.

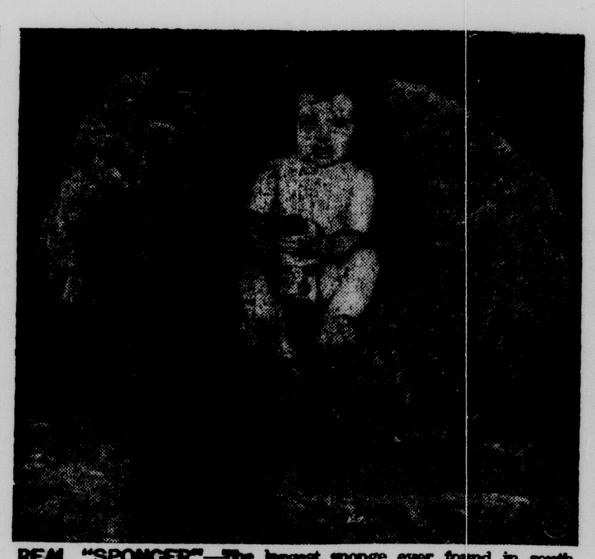
Rainmaking Try Seems To Have Been Success

MATTOON, Ill., (AP) — The Mattoon area in east central Illinois has received its first measurable rain in months but no one seems sure how much credit is due a rainmaking firm.

The Mattoon Assn. of Commerce hired the firm this week to seed clouds with chemicals in an effort to produce rain.

After the seeding, more than a half inch of rain fell in the area Tuesday night. However, the rains were general over the northern half of Illinois and even heavier in some other localities.

Mattoon area farmers are putting up $3,700 a month for the continuous rainmaking operation.



REAL "SPONGER"—The largest sponge ever found in south Florida waters provides a comfortable resting place for tiny Toby Ebbets. The huge sponge was found 10 miles south of Miami in Biscayne Bay by Walter Thompson, Sr., who has been dragging the waters for sponges for 10 years. In the foreground is a normal size sponge.

Reports the AF Bought Untested, Useless Radios

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee reported today the Air Force ordered more than 100 million dollars worth of radio sets of an "untested model" which thus far has been "so unreliable as to be of no practical use." Some of the orders have since been canceled.

The sharply critical report said that "during some periods of the Korean crisis numberous Air Force aircraft were without long-range radio equipment" because of the Air Force reliance on the untested model.

The report was filed by a subcommittee on military operations headed by Rep. Riehlman (R-NY) and approved by the full Government Operations Committee.

The subcommittee said the Air Force first contracted with the Radio Corp. of America in December, 1950, for 207 "revolutionary" long-range combination receiving-sending sets although the sets were still unproven.

This contract later was expanded. The subcommittee said the Air Force now estimates that required redesigning will run the costs under this contract to 71 millions.

The subcommittee said despite serious and obvious defects in the sets, the Air Force entered into a second contract in April, 1953, for 1,843 more sets at an estimated price of 38 million dollars. This second contract was canceled three weeks ago.

The congressmen said they would not criticize limited purchase of an untested model, but they called the size of the first contract, and especially the letting of a second contract, "completely unjustifiable."

The subcommittee also noted that the Navy had experimented with sets similar to those ordered by the Air Force but "it was deemed not feasible and no procurement of the model was made."

Engineers Outline Hannibal Reservoir

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army engineers outlined to a Senate public Works subcommittee today a proposal for a 3½ million dollar reservoir to protect Hannibal, Mo., from Bear Creek floods.

The subcommittee is considering legislation to authorize future construction of flood control and navigation projects. Generally the group is considering projects on which reports were not received in time for inclusion in a house public works committee bill now before the house.

Knowland Plans Limit On Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Leader Knowland (Calif) began taking soundings this afternoon on the possibility of limiting debate and breaking what he called "the full-fledged filibuster" in the Senate against the administration's atomic energy legislation.

Critics of the bill had taken a whipping on one big issue—President Eisenhower's order for a new private power plant serving the TVA area — and Knowland was confident of approval if he could get the measure to a final vote.

The GOP leader told newsmen he had prepared a petition for cloture, as debate limitation is called, and already had "many more" than the 16 signatures required to present it to the Senate.

For the petition to become effective, however, the move would have to get the support of 64 senators. In the past a sizeable group of Democrats has bitterly opposed what they term "gag rule."

The Senate had been in session since 10 a.m. yesterday, and Knowland earlier had declared grimly that he would hold it at its work continuously until Sunday if necessary to get a vote.

Most of the opponents of the bill declined to concede, despite the lengthy debate, that there was a "filibuster."

But Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore.) who made a speech of six hours and 14 minutes against the bill, said "This is a filibuster."

Denies Bail for Two AFL Labor Leaders Appealing Conviction

ST. LOUIS (AP) — U. S. District Judge Rubey M. Hulen has denied bail for Lawrence Callanan and Richard M. Secor, two of five AFL labor leaders appealing their conviction for extortion of $28,000 from a Tulsa, Okla., contractor.

Judge Hulen ruled yesterday the other defendants were denied bail in a similar case and that it would be unfair to them for Callanan and Secor to be released.

The other defendants were William Poster, Lawrence A. Thompson and Carl J. Bianchi.

"In our judgment this case is more aggravated and serious in all respects than the case in which Bianchi, Thompson and Poster were denied bail," the judge said.

Bianchi was sentenced to 10 years in prison by Judge Hulen Monday. The others received 12-year terms.

The men were convicted of extorting the money under threat of labor trouble from Oscar R. Burden, contractor for an eastern Missouri pipeline project.

Boy, 12, Is Held In Bludgeon-Slaying Of 8-Year-Old Girl

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A 12-year-old boy was held today in the bludgeon-slaying of a sweet-faced 8-year-old girl whom he never had known.

State Police said Gerald Savoie admitted following blonde Bonnette Dallaire into the cellar of a partly built house yesterday, then choking her and beating her on the head with a rock and a length of tile pipe.

"I was seized by an idea that came into my head, and I blacked out," police said the boy told them.

What the idea was, police did not learn. They said the boy, an eighth-grader, had not tried to mistreat Bonnette sexually.

A workman found her dying in a pool of blood. Her father, George, a construction worker, had been employed on the site but was elsewhere at the time.

Gerald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Savoie of suburban Colonie, was held for action by children's court. New York state law specifies that children 14 or under cannot be charged with a felony.

Senate Defeats Ike's Plan for Private Plant In Tennessee Valley

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has defeated the Anderson amendment to ban President Eisenhower's plan for a new private power plant in the Tennessee Valley area.

The vote was taken last night, with 55 ballots cast aginast the amendment and 36 for it.

Democratic Senators Hennings and Symington of Missouri and Kerr and Monroney of Oklahoma voted for the amendment.

Missouri Bakers Group Holds Planning Session

The Missouri Bakers Association's officers and special State Fair committee met Wednesday afternoon at the Bothwell Hotel to make final preparations for Missouri Baker's Day at the Missouri State Fair on Aug. 25. This will be the second annual Baker's Day and plans for this year indicate it will be bigger and better than last year, which was very successful for a first year attraction.

Special guests at the meeting were Ross Ewing, secretary of the State Fair and W. H. Ritzenthaler, publicity director for the fair.

Tipton Fair On Four Days, Opens July 28

By Mrs. T. W. Miller

TIPTON — Tipton's eighth annual fair is being held next week, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, uly 28, 29, 30 and 31.

It opens with livestock shows Wednesday afternoon and night, with riding clubs appearing on Thursday night. Horse shows will be on Friday and Saturday nights.

At last year's fair, between $3,000 and $4,000 was paid out in premium monies and this year's event will probably produce the same amount, owing to the number of entrants in the various departments.

The horse barns and hog and sheep pavilions have been repainted, and the art hall has been lined. The grounds have been moved.

Trophies to be given away at the horse shows are on display at the Tipton Farmers Bank.

Appearing on the midway will be the Floyd O. Kile Shows, Baton Rouge, La.

Music will be supplied by the Tipton High School Band, the instructor, John Gregory, directing.

Announcer for the horse shows will be Dr. J. R. Popejoy.

Edwin White, son of Mrs. Ruth White, Tipton, has been transferred in his work with the Associated Press from Kansas City to New York City, having gone there two weeks ago. Edwin will be joined by his wife in the near future.

C. M. White took his father, Alva White, to St. Luke's Hospital in Kansas City Thursday for a check-up.

Friday, C. M. and Vincent Hecht plan to be in St. Louis on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Imhoff are entertaining as their house guest until the first of August Mrs. Imhoff's niece, Miss Carol Roberts, Houston.

Mrs. Nelson Stonner and children, Cary, Kent and Isabella, entrained Monday evening for Denver, Colo., to spend a visit with Mrs. Stonner's parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Pate. Mr. Stonner will join his family there in a couple of weeks when they will return home.

Mrs. Earl Broyles returned to the family home here Sunday evening from the Charles E. Still Hospital in Jefferson City, where she had been a patient 13 days and where she had undergone an operation. Mrs. Broyles is getting along very nicely.

The Rev. Edwar Lutz, O.F.M., Chicago, Ill., recently visited his aunt, Miss Gertie Lutz. Miss Lutz accompanied him back as far as St. Louis, where they visited relatives and friends for one week.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Reibenspies and children, Terry 13, Heddy, 9, Jane, 5, and Renee, 5½ months of age, were in Wichita, Kan., from Wednesday until Monday as guests of Mr. Reibenspie's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Heppler and family, and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Reibenspies.

Mr. and Mrs. Reibenspies and their children were taken sightseeing over Wichita, the children especially enjoying trips to Joyland and Kiddieland.

The weather there, they report, is as hot if not hotter than here in Tipton.

Ike Directs Civil Defense Head to Check Missouri Call for Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has announced he had directed Val Peterson, civil defense director, to investigate request from Missouri for designation of drought disaster areas.

The Missouri congressional delegation has pressed for immediate action for federal assistance for the drought-stricken areas of the state.

Gov. Phil Donnelly has telegraphed the President stating he considers St. Louis and all counties in the state as disaster areas and asking that the President make such designations.

Donnelly also urged action on recommendations by the state drought committee for beef purchases and feed assistance.

Rep. Carnahan (D-Mo), Sens. Hennings and Symington, Missouri Democrats, also have made requests to Secretary of Agriculture Benson for aid.

Customer 'Drops In' On Filling Station

DALLAS (AP)—A customer really droped in on a Dallas filling station yesterday.

Woody Taylor was starled to see a small plane swoop over his station several times, then land on the roadway. The pilot taxied up to the station and asked for five gallons of gasoline, said he was running low after a crop dusting job. He asked directions to an airport and flew away.

Mrs. Brockman Given Shower At Stover

By Mrs. Herschel Small

STOVER — Mrs. Clarence Buerke and daughter, Carol Sue, entertained at the home-makers house Thursday evening, July 16, with a cradle shower for Mrs. Vernon Brockman, Cole Camp.

The room was decorated in a color scheme of yellow and blue. In the center of the room a large basket held lovely and dainty gifts for Mrs. Brockman.

After a number of appropriate games were played, Mrs. Brockman opened her gifts. Sixteen persons were present.

Mrs. Buerke and Carol Sue served refreshments.

On Tuesday evening, June 13, Mrs. Louis Knipp entertained with a birthday party in honor of her daughter, Willa.

Mrs. Herschel Small and son, Phil, and Billy Watson were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carol Welpman and Randy.

The Farmers Friend Club entertained their families on Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. C. Albers.

Death Ends Old Partnership Of Two Linemen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Death, high on a utility pole on a storm-swept country road, has ended the 30-year partnership of two veteran electric linemen.

Sixty - eight - year - old Reber Brown lost his last fight to save his buddy, Harry Finks, 69.

Finks was on a pole near Reese Station early yesterday, repairing broken lines during a thunderstorm, when a swinging wire sent 6,900 volts of electricity through his body.

Brown called for help on the repair truck radio. Then he climbed the slippery, wind-tossed pole to his partner's dangling body and tried to give him artificial respiration. When help arrived Finks was taken to a hospital. He was dead when he got there.

Finks and Brown were well known as team of linemen in Central Ohio where they worked for the Ohio Midland Light and Power Co.—Finks for nearly half a century, Brown for 30 years.

They both were eligible for retirement and had "planned to quit but somehow never quite got around to it."

They had had their brushes with death before. About a year ago, Finks got some "pretty bad burns." Brown was hurt last month when his spurs slipped and drove his shoulder against a pole.

Both times, one helped the other to safety.

But now that Finks is gone, Brown says he is retiring.

"That was my last day," he says. "I'm not going back any more."

Once There Were Five Fishing Smiths, Now Only One Remains

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Once there were five in the fishing Smith family.

Then in the early 1930s Mrs. Mary Smith's husband drowned at the family fishing site near Tyonek, 60 miles west of Anchorage. His body never was recovered.

The widow, with three sons to rear, continued to go annually to the fishing grounds, superintending operations during the season until the boys were able to take over.

Three years ago one of the sons, Roland, drowned at the same spot his father had perished.

Last year, another son, Byrne, drowned on a hunting trip on the Olympic Peninsula in the state of Washington.

Gerard, 26, the last of the sons, carried on. Monday, his dory, its bow stove in like it had struck a barge or scow, was found at the spot where father and brother had died. His body has not been recovered.

Now Mrs. Smith, almost totally blind, alone remains.

Drought, Heat Shift Future Of Economy

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Drought and heat over wide areas of the nation are unsettling part of the economic outlook.

Family budgets may be affected. Already some food prices are rising. Others may fall because of the drought's effects. Damage to the cotton crop could work its way in time to higher prices of sheets and shirts and dresses.

Severe crop damage if the drought is prolonged could cut the total that the government will be paying out in price supports.

And farm incomes are already affected in many sections.

Drought and heat damage to the corn and soybean crops have sent prices higher on the Commodity exchange. But this is small comfort to the farmer who sees his money crop shrivelling away—or to the merchant and manufacturer who cater to farm customers.

Rising prices of corn and other feeds may speed up the rush of hogs to the market, already under way as the large pig crop of last spring starts to mature. Even before the drought, government officials were predicting falling pork prices this fall.

If drought and heat continue to sear pasturelands they may drive a lot of cattle to the stockyards, too. And the cattle population is higher this year.

The American Meat Institute predicts that the total meat supply this year will be 3 per cent higher than last year and set a new record for consumption. So the heat and drought could mean lower meat prices, if a rush to market develops—but the quality of the meat would be less toothsome.

Butter production has been dropping because of the heat. Since the government has large surplus stocks, the housewife may see little change in butter prices. But dairy farmers will have less income.

At the same time, heat-damaged soybean and cotton crops may raise the price of cottonseed and soybean oils — ingredients that margarine makers use.

Heat has killed young chickens in some places—which may mean higher broiler prices in the fall. It has also cut egg production and set egg prices rising on the commodity markets.

In some sections of the nation this is the second year of drought, making this year's onslaught all the more painful and in places threatening future productivity of the land.

There's always another side to the picture. And heat waves have been a boon to many dealers in air conditioners. Stocks which were piling up to the worry of dealers and manufacturers have begun to move quickly in areas worse hit by the heat, merchants report. Price-cutting had unsettled the market, and industry leaders were moaning about overproduction.

Soft drink bottlers and ice cream makers also report sales zooming.

Expect Farm Legislation Battle to End

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opposing leaders agreed today the Senate battle over farm legislation may be settled in two or three days of debate.

Republican Leader Knowland (Calif) has tagged the farm bill as the next major item of business for the adjournment-bound Senate, following action on a bill to revise the Atomic Energy Act.

"I'm pretty certain we can finish it in three days or less unless some one decided to filibuster," Knowland said in an interview.

He and other Senate GOP leaders are backing President Eisenhower's request for a system of flexible farm price supports.

Sen. Young (R-ND), who heads a bipartisan group urging extension of rigid price supports on basic crops for another year, said in a separate interview he expects no filibuster, and he added:

"I think we should be able to settle all arguments in three days and nights."

The Senate Agriculture Committee voted 8-7 for another year of price supports on cotton, wheat, corn, rice and peanuts a 90 per cent of parity, a legal standard said to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

Chairman Aiken (R-Vt) of the committee has predicted the Senate will approve a flexible system under which supports would be lowered in times of surplus to discourage production and be raised when more production is needed.

The House upset its agriculture committee to approve such a plan, with supports ranging from 82½ per cent to 90 per cent of parity.

Airplane Rides Are Offered Guardsmen

Airplane rides over the camp will be awarded to members of the 35th Infantry Division, Missouri National Guard, including many Sedalians, who keep their eyes and ears open during their summer field training at Camp McCoy, Wis.

They have been told that they may find strange documents, stumble across strange aircraft and vehicle markings, be accosted by people in strange uniforms and see posters and leaflets that don't sound right.

They have also been told that these things should be reported to their platoon leaders, who will forward them to the intelligence section of division headquarters. The reports must be written and contain full information.

Awards will be made on a basis of promptness and completeness.

Crane's Brakes Fail, It Collides With Car, Stops In Drugstore

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A 20-ton crane rolled madly down 15th Street for seven blocks yesterday before it smashed into a car and then backed to a stop four feet inside of a drugstore.

The crane's operator, E. J. McKenzie, stayed with his vehicle. He said the brakes failed. He passed about 20 cars.

He maneuvered through traffic but couldn't avoid hiting a car owned by M. L. Stirling, who suffered a concussion and bruises.

Secretary McCay Word-Lashes Alaskans For 'Belligerence'

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — "I just get sick and tired of being kicked around by Alaskans," Secretary of the Interior McKay told a group here yesterday who had asked how the territory could achieve statehood.

The secretary, here on a "look and listen" tour of this vast northern land, gave his audience six reasons and a tongue-lashing in explaining why statehood had not been gained.

"I'm for statehood," he told the members of the board of directors of Operation Statehood, "but the President of the United States is the one who writes the policies for the executive department and I just work for him."

He gave these reasons why statehood legislation has been stymied:

1. The President's opposition for defense reasons; 2. Alaskan opposition to partition of the territory; 3. Tying of the Alaskan and Hawaiian bills together; 4. Opposition of some congressmen to admitting noncontinguous territory applying also to Hawaii); 5. The belligerent attitude of the Alaskans. 6. Insufficient development of the territory.

He told the nonpartisan group he objected to "their belligerent attitude" toward members of Congress, himself, director of territories William Strand and other officials.

"Your people's attitude has to change," he said. "Get back down to earth, start acting like ladies and gentlemen.

"There isn't one thing done by this administration that you approve. A fine job has been done running the railroad. Does anyone give me credit, or Frank Kalbaugh (general manager of the Alaska railroad)?"

He said reports that Alaska is being held onto for the Department of the Interior is "just a bunch of horsefeathers."

"I assure you it would take away a lot of our headaches if you got statehood tomorrow. I have no empire ambitions."

Reds Say Indochina Agreement Points Way For Another In Korea

LONDON (AP)—Red China's Premier Chou En-Lai and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov declared tonight the Geneva agreement on Indochina points the way for a similar settlement in Korea.

The Moscow radio broadcast statements made by the two Red leaders at the end of the Geneva talks.

"This gives new hope for the peaceful settlement of the Korean problem," Chou said.

Molotov hailed the Indochina agreement as "a stride along the path of relaxation of tension in international relations," and added:

"As has been shown by the Geneva conference, the path for negotiations (on Korea) between the states concerned could under certain conditions produce such results as are in accordance with the interests of nations and the interest of strengthening universal peace."

It's a Million Dollar Ride-and no foolin'

YOU can see for yourself the gay and gorgeous styling that's sure to be the fresh note next year, too.

And you can easily learn that here is power a-plenty—the highest V8 power, Series for Series, in the annals of Buick history.

But what you can never know, till you try it yourself, is the feel of a Buick in motion.

It's a ride as precision-soft and firm as only coiled steel can make it.

Yes, coil springs on all four wheels. And a full-length torque-tube drive for true tracking. And a massive X-braced frame for solid steadiness. And specially calibrated shock absorbers, V-braced struts, wide-rim wheels, a unique front-end geometry—plus a host of other betterments too numerous to mention.

You feel the result of this advanced engineering every mile you drive—in what is literally and figuratively a Million Dollar Ride.

You feel it in the superb and buoyant cradling. You feel it in the serene levelness of your going over ruts and ridges. You feel it in the precise snubbing of jars and jounces. You feel it in a new kind of steadiness, handling ease, curve control.

Only thing for you to do, we believe, is to come try this miracle of motion—and we'll be glad to oblige.

That way you'll also learn firsthand about the style, the power, and the value that have made Buick such a best-selling success this year. For Buick today is outselling all other cars in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

(Smart tip: With Buick such a beautiful buy this year, think what a winner it's bound to be at trade-in time! Come see us this week!)

Predict Final Tax Overhaul Okay In Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders today predicted final congressional approval, possibly next week, for the biggest tax overhaul program in 75 years.

A House-Senate conference committee late yesterday agreed on a compromise version of the big bill to cut taxes next year for millions of individuals and many business firms a total of about $1,363,000,000.

President Eisenhower has hailed the plan as the cornerstone of his entire domestic program, predicting it would encourage business growth, remove scores of inequities and lead to more and better jobs.

But Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) served notice today he would renew, when the measure returns to the Senate for final action, a running fight many Democrats have waged against one provision in the bill—a cut in income taxes on dividends received by corporation stockholders.

On this politically touchy issue, the conference committee agreed to permit taxpayers to deduct their first $50 of dividend income. In addition, they could subtract 4 per cent of their remaining dividends directly from the tax bill they otherwise would pay. A man with $10,000 income from dividends could get a tax cut of slightly more than $400.

This was a compromise between a more liberal House plan which would have allowed a deduction of $100 and a tax credit of 10 per cent on dividend income; and a more restricted Senate provision which would have permitted only the $50 exclusion. The compromise version is expected to cost the Treasury about 204 million dollars the first year and 363 millions annually when it takes full effect.

The bill, running almost 1,000 pages, revamps almost every tax law on the books, at least technically. However it does not change major rates.

It permits scores of new or bigger deductions for medical expenses, depreciation, retirement income, child-care expenses, dependents who make more than $600, sick benefits, soil conservation outlays, and other items.

Both Senate and House Republican leaders foresaw easy approval next week.

Chairman Millikin (R-Colo) of the Senate Finance Committee said in an interview the compromise is "an excellent bill." He predicted a Senate okay when the bill gets on the crowded Senate calendar.

Sen. George (D-Ga), senior Democrat on the Finance Committee, said the final bill has "many good features and many dubious ones, but the good outweighs the bad. On the whole, it's a very good bill."

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo), who got a 71-13 Senate vote for his amendment to strike out much of the House-approved dividend tax cut, said the dividend compromise "doesn't sound too good from where I'm sitting." But he wouldn't commit himself to lead a new fight.

Douglas, however, said the percentage tax cut on dividends is "a special privilege to only 1 per cent of the population."

The conference committee in its final actions knocked out of the bill a House-approved plan to cut taxes about 147 million dollars a year on income earned by corporations on their operations abroad.

The committee also struck out an amendment by Sen. McCarran (D-Nev) which would have eliminated the tax exemption granted to charitable or educational foundations if they made any grants to suspected subversives. Such giant enterprises as the Rockefeller, Ford and Carnegie foundations argued this could wreck their operations.

The committee also knocked out an amendment by Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) which would have let farmers deduct for tax purposes the cost of grain storage facilities over the next two years.

Reds Get Half Indochina Now, Probably Get the Rest Later

Larry Allen, Pulitzer prize correspondent of the Associated Press, covered the Indochina war for more than two years from Saigon and Hanoi. Recently he went to Singapore where he could write without regard to censorship.

By LARRY ALLEN

SINGAPORE (AP)—Peace is coming to Indochina by the simple device of splitting Viet Nam in half. That leaves millions of persons under Red rule, unless they choose to flee, and raises the question of just how long Ho Chi Minh will be content with just northern Indochina.

With the cease-fire line drawn near the 17th parallel, about half of Indochina's 26 millions and the big rice bowl of the Red River Delta with its tremendous resources of salt, coal, iron, phosphates and cement will fall under Red control sooner or later.

The Vietminh also get the "Maginot line" of Indochina. This is the long network of concrete reinforced, heavily gunned bunkers atop the mountains around Tien Yen, 40 miles southeast of Moncay. The line was finished two years ago to repeal any Chinese or massive Viet Minh attack toward the seaport of Haiphong.

This is not all. The Vietminh also get what they might call "victory." Ever since the war started every French commander has said—and Western diplomats and even the Vietminh have agreed—that "whoever holds the Red River Delta holds all of Indochina. As the Delta goes so goes Southeast Asia."

Under the cease-fire the Vietminh will get the Delta. The cease-fire provides that the French evacuate enclaves covering the cities of Hanoi and Haiphong within 300 days. How long Ho Chi Minh might contain himself within the truce is anybody's guess—unless further Communist moves are stopped by a new Southeast Asia Security Alliance or similar arrangement.

But Vietnamese leaders do not believe Ho Chi Minh will long stay put. Nguyen Huu Tri, until recently governor of North Viet Nam, once told newsmen in Hanoi: "Even if one province is given to Ho Chi Minh as the price of peace he will take all of the country as soon as he can."

Back of the inability of the war-weary French to score a decisive victory in the long war lies the big factor of noncooperation from the Vietnamese masses. The hearts and sympathies of most Vietnamese have always been with Ho, who never lost his identity as a symbol fighting for his country's independence from France.

Names Make Trouble

POOLER, Ga. (AP)—Churchfolk had identification troubles when C. E. Smith was pastor of the First Baptist Church and C. E. Smith, Jr., (not the other's son) was pastor of the Methodist Church.

The Methodist Smith was transferred and replaced by Gilbert Ramsey. But that didn't solve everything because the pastor of the Rothwell Street Baptist Church is Carter Ramsey.

Flu Epidemic Sweeps Guatemala Prison, Threatens Suspects

GUATEMALA (AP)—An influenza epidemic swept the central police prison today, threatening 2,000 Communist suspects packed there like sardines.

Police authorities said scores of the prisoners already have the flu. About 100 others were said to be suffering from dysentery, 20 from malaria. The situation was described as serious.

A hospital has been improvised on the second floor of the building, and the Red Cross has been asked for help. The jail was described as seriously lacking in light, air and sanitation facilities.

The attorney general's office announced that it hoped to release at least 100 prisoners soon for lack of sufficient evidence against them. The Red suspects were rounded up this month following the successful anti-Communist revolt by Col. Carlos Castillo Armas, President of Guatemala's present military government.

Parishioners Solve Missing Bell Mystery

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The wedding chimes disappeared from the Church of the Immaculate Conception and it was assumed that someoody had stolen them.

Police were notified by the Rev. Victor Bazzanella and a search was started.

But the priest himself solved the mystery a few hours later.

He said he was informed his own parishioners had the chimes taken out for repairs and had forgotten to tell him.

Tells of Offer Of $25,000 To Leave US

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The former district manager for the Ford Motor Co. here, on trial of tax evasion, testified yesterday he was offered $25,000 to leave the country.

Charles A. Mills Sr. told federal court jurors that Fred E. Evans, former Ford agency operator, met him at the door of Evans' home one night with a pistol.

Evans, according to Mills, said a lot of Ford dealers had signed statements with internal revenue agents about money the dealers allegedly paid Mills on car transactions.

"There has been a lot of heat on me," Mills quoted Evans. "But I haven't signed a statement yet. I have studied the extradition laws and I think you should leave the country for about six years."

Mills said Evans then offered him $25,000 to flee. He gave no reason for the offer before court recessed.

Mills is charged with evading $13,111 in taxes for the years 1948-50. Evans and other dealers have testified they made arrangements during those years to get additional cars from Mills and wrote checks payable to themselves or their firms, cashed the checks and gave the money to Mills.

Congress Highlights . . .

WASHINGTON (AP)—Worn out, but not speechless, the Senate plods on in its debate of the administration's atomic energy bill.

Echoes of a week-long argument over allowing private power in the Tennessee Valley persist as senators orate on other aspects of the nation's treatment of its atomic secrets. The non-stop session carrying over from 10 a.m. yesterday continues with many scarcely rested after catnaps on cots dragged into anterooms.

An amendment to permit the Atomic Energy Commission to contract for private power is approved, fulfilling a White House objective. Republican Leader Knowland (Calif) renews his charge of filibustering by opponents as senators rotate from chamber to couch through the night.

TAXES—GOP leaders forecast approval next week of compromise legislation revising tax laws and cutting revenues about $1,363,000,000 a year. Opponents of a healthy slice in the levy on corporation stock dividends say they will fight the provision when the bill hits the Senate floor.

HOUSING—Senate housing investigators resume hearings on federal programs which have resulted in big profits to apartment builders. Sen. Maybank (D-SC) calls for prompt action to reduce rents of tenants who he says are paying inflated prices.

MCCARTHY—Sen. Mundt (R-SD) joins Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) in demanding explanation of denial of security clearance to Thomas W. Lavenia, investigations subcommittee aide. McCarthy calls on Defense and Justice departments to explain why Lavenia was refused permission to handle secret documents.

INVESTIGATOR—Sen. Homer E Capehart (R, Ind.), chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, plans investigating builders who parlayed small investments into large profits from government-backed loans.

Priceless Secrets Once Given To Potential Enemies of U. S.

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Congressmen who plan to give atomic secrets to private industry under Eisenhower's proposed new Atomic Energy Act might take a look at Justice Department and Senate records to see what private industry did with important secrets in the past.

The record, spelled out in the Truman committee and munitions committee hearings, shows that our potential enemies got access to priceless military secrets, some of them the property of the U.S. government, as follows:

The Electric Boat Company, now making the atomic submarine, paid commissions to the famed munitions peddler, Sir Basil Zaharoff, to sell submarines around the world; and the U.S. Navy submarine plans were sold to both the Japanese and the Germans around 1914.

The Bausch and Lomb Optical Company made a secret deal with Carl Zeiss of Germany whereby the Germans got the blueprints for the U.S. Navy submarine sights.

Standard Oil of New Jersey made a deal with I. G. Farben of Germany which prevented the United States from developing synthetic rubber for years.

The Aluminum Corporation of America worked out a monopoly deal with I. G. Farben which get magnesium away from the American aircraft industry and retarded our production of airplanes.

The Sperry Gyroscope Company exchanged valuable patents with German, Italian and Japanese firms, all of them later Axis countries.

The Radio Corporation of America, which had observers attached to the U.S. Army Signal Corps when the Signal Corps developed the priceless secret of radar, hired one of the Signal Corps technicians, William D. Hershberger, and then filed radar patents in Japan and other foreign countries.

After the war the Army asked the Justice Department to examine the case with a view to prosecution. After the war also, RCA hired the recently retired head of the Signal Corps, Gen. Harry Engles, and the Army promptly lost interest in prosecuting.

This, in brief, is the past record. American industrialists, it is hoped, have attained a higher standard of ethics today, but the atomic energy secrets they would get from the government under the proposed new atomic energy bill are the most valuable in the world. They cost the taxpayer $12,000,000,000 to develop.

Paradoxical Arkansan

Sen. John McClellan, junior senator from Arkansas, whose slow southern drawl and horn-rimmed glasses became known to TV millions during the Army-McCarthy hearings, is a man of puzzling contrasts.

For many years in the Senate McClellan was considered one of McCarthy's stanch supporters. When Democratic senators would line up to count noses regarding an issue dealing with McCarthyism, there were always three colleagues they could not depend on—McCarran of Nevada, Eastland of Mississippi and McClellan of Arkansas, all Democrats. Democratic leaders just never could tell when McClelland would end up voting with Joe.

This was probably because of McClellan's economic ties back in Arkansas. If you look up the clients of McClellan's law firm, Gaughan, McClellan and Gaughan of Camden, you will find that it represents ESSO Standard Oil, Tidewater Associated Oil, Seaboard Oil of Delaware, and Carter Oil.

Undoubtbedly this explains McClellan's vote for Tidelands Oil and gives a clue to the overtures which H. L. Hunt, the Texas oil millionaire, has made to McClellan. Hunt, who is a strong backer of McCarthy, a former employer of Mrs. McCarthy, and operates Facts Forum and various TV-radio programs, tried to pressure McClellan at the start of the hearings. Hunt phoned Hamilton Moses, president of Arkansas Power and Light, and told Ham to have the senator from Arkansas to cooperate with the senator from Misconsin. Moses is very close to McClellan, usually swings his vote on power matters.

This is how the senator from Arkansas has found himself betwixt and between regarding McCarthy. Some of his most powerful friends and political backers were behind McCarthy; yet the Baptists and Methodist of Arkansas were bitterly against him.

This was probably why McClellan, while tangling with McCarthy at the McCarthy hearings, told a report for the Arkansas Democrat that personally he liked Joe an had enjoyed a close association with him.

This may also explain why McClellan gave an interview in Little Rock on April 19 stating that he "never had reason to doubt the sincerity of McCarthy in his crusade against communism" and that McCarthy was motivated by the "highest type of Americanism."

That's why many Arkansans who watched their owl-like senator heckle McCarthy during the TV hearings frankly are confused.

Democrats' Mistakes

It's been partially obscured by sensational headlines of housing profits, but the basic trouble with FHA is the fact that the agency was set up by the builders and realtors, administered by builders and realtors, and run for the benefit of the builders and realtors.

The Democrats deserve plenty of criticism for this setup, but that is no reason for having the Republicans repeat the same mistake. And its possible repetition could take place under new proposals by the Eisenhower administration in other industries, as follows:

1. The health insurance bill recently defeated by the Democrats. This was to operate on the same principle as the housing administration—namely, government guarantees. Just as the government guaranteed housing loans and took the loss if the loans went sour, so the insurance companies were to have health loans guaranteed. If they went sour, Uncle Sam paid the bill. This made for irresponsible loans in the housing field, and would probably make for irresponsible loans in the health field.

2. Atomic Energy and Private Power—Here is another case where, under the Eisenhower order to the AEC, a private utility would be subsidized by the government for 25 years and at the end of that time the private utility could own the plant built under government contract and guarantee. Uncle Sam would even pay the taxes for the private company.

Farm Price Support Problem Simply Has To Be Solved

By Bruce Biossat

Many parts of President Eisenhower's program of course require positive action by Congress if they are to become a reality. However, the major feature of his farm plan—flexible price supports for staple crops—does not.

The reason is that the flexible principle was written into law in the 1948 and 1949 agricultural acts. Up to now Congress has simply postponed its effect by periodically enacting delaying legislation.

Should no new postponement be enacted this year, flexible supports would come into play Jan. 1, 1955.

To be sure, the advocates of high, rigid price props have not been idle. The House Agriculture Committee, by a vote of 21 to 8, has approved a one-year extension of existing high supports. A fair guess would be, too, that the full House probably will ratify this decision.

But the story in the Senate might be different this time. Senator Aiken of Vermont, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, is one of the authors of the original flexible plan still on the statute books. And he has said he considers prospects for extension of high supports "very remote."

Even if Aiken is overstating the case for the forces backing the flexible plan, there is the distinct possibility that Mr. Eisenhower would veto a bill extending high supports. Secretary of Agriculture Benson says he will ask the President to do just that.

The President has not said how he would respond to this plea. He is firmly wedded to the flexible principle. But Congress could vastly complicate his task by sending him a bill containing other farm features that he wants.

He would then be put in the position of either accepting high supports to get these, or perhaps winning the day on his flexible plan at the cost of many other desired farm law changes.

If high supports should be voted in Congress and Mr. Eisenhower should veto the proposal, then the lawmakers would have another shot at extension through their chance of overriding the President's veto.

The indications are, though, that this might be extremely difficult to bring off in the Senate, if not in the House.

Should both sides hold to their positions to the end, a bitter quarrel could ensue in the next month or two. But it is a fight that must come some time, unless government is to go on indefinitely piling up the costly, unmanageable farm surpluses which are the product of present high support prices.

The administration is trying to find a way out of this dilemma. For the most part, the men who advocate continuing high farm props simply close their minds to it. But pressing national problems are not solved by closed minds.

Swelling in Joints Is Mild Form of Arthritis

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

A letter from Mrs. B. says that five years ago the end joints of the small fingers on each hand seemed to be getting larger. She says that she was told that this was a form of bone arthritis, but that since she had no pain or discomfort she has not worried about it too much.

Now, the same thing is starting in the end joints of some of the other fingers and she wonders if there is any way to arrest the spread of this condition. She says she is nearly fifty years old, and about ten pounds overweight.

* * *

This is really typical of a condition which is sometimes known as osteoarthritis, but which is really only a mild degeneration or wearing out of some of the structures which go to make the joints. It is a sort of aging process of the joints and occurs in the knees or hips about as often as in the fingers since these joints also get a great deal of work during life.

In the fingers the enlargements are called Heberden's nodes after the English physician who first described them. They are sometimes accompanied by a little stiffness and soreness, but this usually disappears after the joints have been loosened up.

* * *

The exact cause or causes of this condition are not entirely understood. The cartillage and bone of people in some famliies may be particularly susceptibel to early degeneration or osteoarthritis. Repeated injury also seems to promote the development of this condition. Poor posture, fatness, and disturbances of blood circulation, are other conditions which contribute to the development of osteoarthritis.

Because so many people with osteoarthritis are overweight, reducing is often advisable. This is especially important if the knees are involved. If they have to carry more weight than they are built for there will be too much wear and tear of the joints.

People with osteoarthritis are rarely incapacitated and can usually move around, though often with some discomfort. They do need frequent rest periods as this seems to relieve some of the stiff feeling.

* * *

The use of heat, massage or special supports depends on what joints are involved, the age and phiysical condition of the person and the severity of the condition.

The treatment of degenerative changes in the joints includes general measures aimed at relieving the discomfort and improving the overall condition. Heat, bandaging, and other measures are also used. Occupational strains should be eliminated whenever possible and posture should be corrected.

Osteoarthritis is almost always a mild disorder which should be considered as an ailment rather than as a serious or dangerous disease. It does not cause serious crippling as some other forms of arthritis do.

'Thank Goodness We Didn't Lose Face'

The World Today—

Why Did Reds Accept Peace?

(By James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP) — Now that the Geneva conference has given the Communists half of Viet Nam, the puzzling question remains: Why were the Communists willing to make the agreement and end the war?

They had the French on the run in Indochina when the Geneva conference began last April and were continuing to push them up to the time the armistice was signed.

They may feel confid..it they can win control of all Viet Nam in elections to be held in 1956. That would be the first time the Communists had won new territory through free elections.

This armistice would seem to signal a shift in Communist tactics, at least temporarily. Their twin goals will remain the same: To subvert where they can and to weaken Western resistance by splitting the Allies.

Instead of trying to subvert and at the same time split the Allies by shooting, as in Korea and Indochina, they may feel they can accomplish both ends better in a period of peace, or at least give it a try.

So long as shooting continued they were in danger. If, instead of settling for half of Viet Nam, they had tried to take it all from the French by force, the United States and Britain eventually might have intervened. The result might have been world war.

Just forcing the French to give them half of Viet Nam was a Communist victory over the West, which had been too divided to agree on a plan for stopping them militarily.

This was twice within a year that communism had pushed the West into a position where it was glad to settle for an armistice instead of fighting on to a victory, in Korea in 1953 and now in Indochina.

It was a lesson which could hardly be lost on the millions of Asians, who for centuries had been forced to regard the West as invincible when dealing with Asiatics.

This realization and the memory of what happened in Korea and Indonchina may have a weakening effect on Southeast Asians if they have to make a decision on allying themselves with the West against communism.

Since French Premier Mendes-France had promised to resign this week unless he obtained an Indochina armistice, it might seem that Russian Foreign Minister Molotov would have wanted to prevent an armistice.

For resignation by Mendes-France would have forced the French to choose a new government, perhaps weaker than the present one and more of a push-over for Communist pressure.

On the surface that might appear logical. But Molotov had to take something else into consideration: That Mendes-France's failure, and resultant French exasperation and frustration, might have produced a strong military leader and bitterness against the Russians.

It was a gamble and Molotov apparently chose to take it easy. What Russia wants is to prevent creation of the European Defense Community — the single European Army — urged by the United States.

The French have stalled on this plan which would put them in a single army with the West Germans. Russia has been anxious to prevent both EDC and German rearming. Now, faced with the prospect of peace everywhere in the world for an indefinite period, the French may be more reluctant than ever to join EDC.

If the United States and Britain go ahead with reported plans to let the Germans rearm independently if the French won't join them in EDC, there will be a wedge between the three Allies.

The Russians can be depended on to do all they can to drive wedges in here and elsewhere. For example, the United States is going to face the problem of trying to keep the Red Chinese out of the United Nations.

Then there is the problem of trading with the Red Chinese. The United States is against it. The British, for instance, consider this unrealistic.

Meanwhile, without starting wars the Communists can work from within any country they pick as their next target. They can afford a period of quiet for a change, if only to see how they can make it work for them.

And since the United States is probably ahead of them in armaments, they can use a few years of peace to build up their arsenal against the moment they think ripe for a showdown.

The Mighty MILO

by Phillips Rogers

Copyright 1954 by Hamilton News, Inc. Distributed by NEA Service

THE STORY: Betty Jane Blane, Fred Anapach's girl friend, insists that before she will marry him, he must quit his job at the supermarket, prepare himself to support a family, and stop associating with Milo, who is teaching Fred to wrestle. However, Fred and Milo are scheduled to appear in a bout in Baltimore and Fred thinks that what Betty does not know won't hurt her.

* * *

XVIII

I WAS all set to make some remark, but Dawn beat me to it. She began to talk real fast in hog Latin, and I tumbled right away. There was something she wanted to talk to me about without letting Milo know. He looked bewildered the way he usually did, but I covered up for her.

"Let's take in the rest of the show," I suggested, and you would have thought she'd understand I was only playing along the way she wanted, but no.

"I don't think either of you would be interested," she said. "I've finished my act and the other stripper is terrible. Not only does she have no figure, but even less talent. Besides, your car is parked where there is only half-hour parking. Milo, run along and put it in a garage and we'll wait for you."

He gave us both a sort of funny look, which made me hope that he wasn't jealous of Dawn and me, while knowing that Betty Jane was the only name in my date book, but he turned and nodded his head a couple of times and did like Dawn told him. He was no sooner gone than Dawn turned to me.

"Look, I happen to like that little guy and you can make of it what you want."

"I like him too," I said, not wanting to make anything of anything.

"It's a redeeming feature," she answered. "Honeyboy — I hope you don't mind being called that, because it's the way you're being billed tonight—I'm in a jam."

"Meaning that my match is off?" I asked. "It doesn't matter about me, just so Milo gets a good spot."

"You really mean that's how you feel?"

"Sure," I said. "If I messed up anything for him, just count me out, that's all."

"Why, I do believe you mean it! Maybe we can take the poor guy off the hook."

"First of all, I should know what hook he is on," I said.

* * *

"WELL, this promoter, Benny Lefkoe, isn't exactly a friend of mine, but he'd like to be. He runs a show every week, so it looked like a good spot for Milo. Then, when Milo called up about you, it so happened that Benny was trying to make a match for this Pancho Lopez who he's been playing up."

"A Cuban?" I asked.

"Mexican. You'll be giving away 10 pounds, and he's fast. He's won his last nine bouts by falls. The crowd hates him, but they keep coming in the hope he'll get thrown. Milo saw him work last week and says you can take him. I wouldn't know."

As usual, I was modest about myself; it's only about how good Milo is that I ever sound off. "I'm not worrying," I said. "And if this Mexican is the hook you think Milo is on for recommending me, forget it. Most of them can't even speak English, much less wrestle."

"I don't get your point," she said, not trying to. "I saw the announcements in the paper last night, and instead of having Milo matched with one fellow in the final, the way I understood from Benny, there are three others on the mat with him."

"What they call a 'rassle royal. You don't need to worry. Milo will throw those other fellows in rapid succession, or all at one time."

"What I am afraid is that be won't like this business about the molasses."

"Molasses?" I asked.

"You heard the first time. A whole barrel of molasses is to be poured on the mat for the rassle royal. It says so, right in the announcement."

I was worse than dumfounded, I was speechless. "Milo won't like that," I said. "He takes his wrestling very seriously and he is too sensitive to be treated like a stack of pancakes. Why doesn't he wrestle the Mexican and let me slush around in the molasses? I won't care."

I tell you, the look that came on her face then was so pretty that if I didn't already love Betty Jane Blane, I could have fallen hard for Dawn O'Day.

"You will?" she said, practically hugging me. "It gets my goat, the way people laugh at Milo anyway. You can imagine how they'd howl at seeing him in all that molasses. Let's go see that Lefkoe lug right away."

* * *

BENNY LEFKOE would not have tipped the scales at more than 120. Strictly lightweigh.. what I mean. After Dawn told what was on her mind, this Benny pushed his hat on the back of his head, where he'd been wearing it all this time. "Sorry, kid. Believe me, I'd like to make the switch just to please you, but there are a dozen reasons why I can't. First of all, I've made a reputation for giving the fans what I advertise, and the ads and the window cards all say that Pancho Lopez' versus is Honeyboy Hackenschmidt. There is a gimmick there, too, which is one of the reasons I gave you the spot when Dawn asked me. You met Pancho yet?"

I had to admit I hadn't.

"He's the ugliest-looking man you ever saw. His face looks like it was put through a meat grinder. Matching him with a good-looking guy like you was sheer inspiration. Will the fans go for it? The answer is yes, although which way I don't know. They may be for you, because of the way they hate this Lopez, or they may root for him to spoil that profile. Maybe he will, too."

Odds and Ends By News Staff

A WOMAN who lives in the country looked out one day to see a collie dog in her yard. The dog was poor and hungry looking, but, having two dogs already, she just didn't want to encourage another dog to stay around.

However, the dog did stay and was so afraid and pitiful looking that she just couldn't stand it any longer. She set food out by the fence and he ate it. After several days he began to look like he should look and in the meantime she had talked nice to him so he wouldn't be afraid of her, but she still didn't want another dog.

Somebody would want that dog, she thought so she put an ad in the paper and sure enough a woman came right over to buy the dog.

"How much do you want for him?" the buyer asked.

"Oh, about $5," said the other woman.

"Are you sure that is enough—people usually get $10 for a dog like that", the woman buying the dog said, but $5 was quite enough the other woman told her.

So off went the woman with the dog and everybody was happy except the collie.

A few days later the woman who sold the dog looked out in the yard and there was the collie again. It had come the five miles from one farm to the other.

The woman who sold the dog immediately called the other woman, who told her she had fed the dog, petted it and even tied it up for awhile until she thought it had become accustomed to its new home. She wanted the dog very much so back she came and got him again.

When the woman started to take him away again the dog came up to the first woman, looked up at her and wagged his tail. She was sure he was trying to say, "Don't let her take me," and her conscience hurt her, but the woman who had come after the collie took him on with her.

Several more days passed an one morning when the woman went out in the yard there was the collie again just as happy to see her as could be. That was too much. She went in the house and called the other woman. "The dog is back", she said, "And this time I am going to keep him. I'm sorry, but I am sending you back your $5. If he wants to stay here that bad I just won't try any more."

The other woman was sorry, too. The dog had done a nice job going after the cows for her and she liked him a lot—but, it seemed the dog had made up its mind and that was it.

Yesterday's Games—

Only 5 Teams Now Hopeful Of Series Play

By BEINFGEGAR
AP Sports Writer

By now only five teams have serious ideas about reaching the World Series this fall but a whole hatful of others in both leagues are still scrapping to see who will help cut up the swag.

Players on the first four teams in each league share in the World Series receipts.

It's generally conceded among all but the diehards that either the New York Giants or Brooklyn will be the National League representative against Cleveland, the New York Yankees, or the Chicago White Sox.

But a check of the standings shows dog fights in both circuits immediately below these private pennant races.

In the National League four teams are bunched a game and a half apart from third through sixth place. Philadelphia holds third by a percentage point over Cincinnati and Milwaukee with St. Louis still a big factor.

The American league is running with a five-team "second division." Fourth place Detroit is a fat 22 lengths out of the lead and 17½ behind the third place White Sox. But the Tigers hold only a single game edge over Boston and Washington and just eight games separate them from the tailend Baltimore Orioles.

In the upper brackets yesterday Cleveland took a half game lead over New York when the Yanks crumbled before Chicago 15-3 while the Indians were playing their second straight tie in Boston. Rain halted the 7-7 contest in the top of the ninth inning.

The Giants maintained their seven game advantage over Brooklyn with a 2-1 triumph at Chicago. Chicago. The Dodgers tripped Cincinnati 5-1.

St. Louis outscored Pittsburgh 13-12, Philadelphia defeated Milwaukee 6-1 and Washington shaded Baltimore 6-5 in other action.

Brooklyn's Carl Erskine turned in the outstanding pitching performance, retiring the last 23 Cincinnati batters in order after Bob Borkowski homered in the second inning.

A pinch single by Bill Taylor drove in the winning Giant run in the ninth inning at Chicago.

The White Sox scored early and often against the Yankees, opening with five runs in the first and closing out with five in the ninth. Minnie Minoso and Johnny Groth collected four hits each. Virgil Trucks became the first American League pitcher to win 13 games.

Home runs by Jim Hegan, Al Rosen and Larry Doby lifted Cleveland from a 6-0 deficit into a 7-6 lead at Boston but the Red Sox pushed across the tying run in the sixth and kept it that way until rain intervened. The same two teams played a 17 inning tie Tuesday night.

Only five Milwaukee batters got on base against Robin Roberts and the only run off the Phils' ace was Eddie Mathews' 22nd home run, hit with two out and the bases empty in the ninth.

The Athletics' victory over Detroit broke a 10-game losing streak. Sonny Dixon tamed the Tigers and Joe DeMaestri, Lou Limmer and Jim Finegan hit home runs for the winners.

Washington wasted an early lead against Baltimore, then won in the ninth when an easy roller dribbled through Jim Brideweser's legs with the bases loaded and one out.

Stiffer Regulations By Military on Sports

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Army spokesman and Rep. Hess (R-Ohio) agreed today that some military regulations are going to see stiffer enforcement because of a congressional probe of reported coddling of athletes in the Army.

But Brig. Gen. Herbert B. Powell, deputy director of Army personnel, disputed a finding by the House armed services subcommittee Hess heads that sports favoritism existed "upon a widepread basis."

"There were a few cases of overzealous commanders who made mistakes," Powell said, "but corrective measures were taken in each case."

Sav-mor Girls Win 9-6 Over LaMonte

The Sav-Mor girls belted the La Monte girls, 9-6 Wednesday night at Duensing Field, Jefferson City, in a softball game.

The Jefferson City girls poured across three runs on two hits in the second frame, added one in the third, four in the fourth and one in the fifth.

The Sav-Mor pitcher, Jeannette Hickman gave up six hits, while her mates collected five, including Ann Toddleson's two-bagger and Phyllis Dearing's triple.

Country Club Golf Tourney Quarterfinals

The 18-hole quarterfinal matches of the Sedalia Country Club golf championship will be played on Saturday and Sunday, with Herb Studer, 1953 defending champion, considered a strong contender to retain his crown.

In the first round matches of the annual match play affair, which were held last Saturday and Sunday, Studer defeated Ted Maloney 2 and 1. Damon Hieronymus eliminated Bernard Stanfield 3-2, Lt. Preston Moore edged C. C. Delozier 2-1. Dan Van Dyne stared over John Joe McGrath 4-3 and Charles Patterson won over Laddie Keens 4-3, as Dick Gorrell omitted Cecil Owens 2-1, Lt. Householder upset Lloyd Parker 2-1, and Judd Grayston won by forfeit from Gentry Patterson.

In the matches to be played this weekend, Stu[illegible]ll meet Householder, and [illegible]ronymus and Moore, both [illegible]sidered strong threats to Studer, are opponents for a Sunday afternoon match. In the other two matches Van Dyne will play Gorrell, and Grayston is bracketed against Charles Patterson.

These matches will be over 18 holes, with the semifinals, as well as the finals, to go 36 holes.

The semifinals are to be played between Aug. 1 and Aug. 8, and the finals Aug. 8-15.

City Swim Meet Aug. 12 Open to All Boys And Girls With Three Classes By Ages

Sedalia swimmers will again have an opportunity to perform publicly as plans are made for a city swim meet to be held Aug. 12 at the Liberty Park swimming pool.

The competition will be open to both male and female swimmers of Sedalia in three age divisions. Entry in the races can be acquired by the swimmer leaving his, or her, name and the events in which he desires to compete, at the pool office.

A number of inquiries have already been received concerning the date of the meet and some of these persons have already begun working out at the pool in preparation for the races.

The age divisions for both male and female swimmers will be:

Juniors, 12 years of age and under; intermediates, 13 through 14 years; seniors, 15 years and over.

Awards will go to the high point winners in each event. A contestant may enter as many events as he or she desires. The events will include backstroke, freestyle and breaststroke races over varying distances, a shorter course being allowed for the junior age swimmers.

Junior boys and girls, 70 feet freestyle, 70 feet backstroke, 70 feet breaststroke, 140 feet individual medley relay.

Intermediate boys, 140 feet freestyle, 140 feet backstroke, 140 feet breaststroke, 210 feet individual medley relay.

Senior girls, 70 feet freestyle, 70 feet backstroke, 70 feet breaststroke, 210 feet individual medley relay.

Entry will be made by signing at the pool ticket window. There is no entry fee required. Information concerning the event can be obtained at the pool.

Chiefs' Bats Hot On Cool Marshall Nite

Last night at Marshall, in a game that looked as though it might be stopped because of rain at almost any time, the Sedalia Chiefs took the measure of the Marshall Ban Johnson Club 7-3. Lightning and thunder could be seen and heard throughout the contest, but when the team headed back for Sedalia, it had still not rained. However, it was a pleasure to play in comparatively cool weather for a change. The Chiefs were not cool, however, and jumped out to a two run lead in the first inning and never were caught by Marshall.

Bill Arnold pitched a masterful game for the Chiefs, never being in any real trouble and while he allowed seven hits, two of these were erased by double plays and another cancelled when the runner was cut down trying to stretch his hit into a double. Arnold was really tough with his fast ball and curve and struck out 15 batters while walking only one man. He now has won three games for the season and has not as yet been beaten.

In the hitting department for the Chiefs, Jim Fall was the standout, getting three for four including a long home run and a double. Mines, playing with a badly bruised hand, and Schulz, playing out of his normal position, at second base, each had two hits, one of Mines' being a double.

The Chiefs next appearance at home will be as a participant in the Missouri State Semi-Pro Tournament, but at this time their opponents and exact playing date are unknown. Watch the semi-pro schedule in this paper for notices on games.

The next road game will be against the Boonville Lions in Boonville, next Tuesday, July 27. Schulz is scheduled to handle the pitching duties for this game.

Sports Roundup—

Do Dodgers Know They Fired Pennant Winner? Did Dressen?

NEW YORK (AP) — It was inevitable that the time would come when the owners of the Brooklyn Dodgers would be reminded that they had fired a pennant winning manager, Charlie Dressen, and installed in his place a big, quiet fellow named Walter Alston who never had before directed a big league club.

The time is now. As the once proud leaders suffer through an extended slump and fall further behind the flying Giants in a National League race that threatens to develop into a runaway, the abrupt change of pilots that shocked the baseball world last fall again has become a burning topic of conversation and conjecture.

Would the Dodgers still be on top if the scrappy, alert Dressen were at the helm? Or was the likeable Alston presented with a ball club that, because of age and recurring injuries to key men, was ready to fade before the onslaught of the first determined rival? Did Dressen foresee what was coming and demand a two-year contract for his own protection?

If you think you know any of the answers, consider yourself a member of the debating club. The only clue we have to offer comes from a former big league star, later a manager, who has had an opportunity to study the methods of both Dressen and Alston.

"They're both good managers," he said, "but of an entirely different type. Alston still looks a little bewildered to me though, maybe a bit overwhelmed by what's happened to him. I don't doubt that he's a sound baseball man, but I've seen him make some mistakes that Charlie never would have made.

"I don't believe he thinks quite as fast as the little guy did. It wasn't the bunk about Charlie stealing your signals. He could hurt you, and I'm convinced he helped some of his batters by calling pitches for them. He had the horses, sure, but he helped them win a lot of close games."

Whether Dressen suspected that worse times were coming, and so precipitated the row that wound up with him managing Oakland instead of sounding his shrill whistle in the big show, one can only guess.

As for Alston, he isn't saying much of anything. No particular inference is to be drawn from this, though, as he had very little to say before the roof began caving in upon him. They say that he, like his players, only looks a little more stunned day by day as misfortune dogs the team.

Only once, apparently, has the rookie pilot permitted his temper to show through. That was when, after a recent loss to the Giants, he ordered the entire club, pitchers and all, to engage in special batting practice until dark. No member of the team could recall this having happened before.

Cards Use Eight Pitchers for Win From Pirates

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals have one consolation about their pitching, hurling by the Pittsburgh Pirates was one run worse, although the Pirates didn't display as many staffers at Busch Stadium last night.

The 31 hits and the five errors by the two clubs were the important factors in the up-and-down contest, finally won by the Redbirds, 13-12, on Bill Sarni's eighth inning single, his fourth blow of the night.

Acting Manager Johnny Riddle trotted out eight pitchers—the second time this year St. Louis has tied the National League record in this department — and finally Brooks Lawrence and Harvey Haddix held the Pirates scoreless in the top of the ninth to protect the lead. It was the first inning either team hadn't scored since the top of the fourth.

The Pirates used five pitchers and George O'Donnell, the last one, was the loser, giving up doubles by Ray Jablonski and Joe Cunningham and the game-winning single to Sarni in the eighth. Sarni's output also included a double and two other singles. Cunningham had another double and a single and Wally Moon drove in a pair of runs with a homer. No one Pirate took the limelight on hits as six of them each had two safe blows off—in this order—Tom Poholsky, Royce lint, Cot Deal, Al Brazle, Joe Presko, Gerry Staley, Lawrence and Haddix.

It was Lawrence's fifth appearance in the last six games—also his sixth victory since joining the club June 24. He said when he came to the Redbirds he hoped he'd get a lot of work. He did.

Riddle's record as a manager also remained unblemished since he took over for the suspended Eddie Stanky. It was his third victory in as many nights.

Rotary Runs Wild on Bases, Wins 22 to 2

Four Kiwanis pitchers could not put out the fire Wednesday night as the Rotary team seared the base paths with 22 runs in a 22-2 victory while it took a last inning rally for the Jaycees to come from behind to defeat the Elks 7 to 5.

Walks, a hit batsman and errors spelled defeat for the Kiwanians and allowed every Rotary player, save one, to cross home plate. The winners collected only seven hits, three of them being doubles by Tim Morgan, Benner and Todd.

Benner was the winning hurler and Cole, the starting pitcher for Kiwanis, took the loss.

The Jaycees and Elks played a see-saw game, each scoring a run in the first and the Elks took a 3-2 lead in the second. The Elks made it 4-2 in the top of the fifth and in the last of the same frame the Jaycees scored three to grab a 5-4 advantage. Two more in the sixth was sufficient for the Jaycee win.

Horner and Mulcahey combined to pitch a two-hit victory and Shepherd and Horner each doubled for the winners.

Columbia Edges T&C Girls Here Wednesday 14-7

Columbia walloped the Town & Country girls softball team at Center Park Wednesday by a score of 14-7.

Getting off to a good start, Columbia took a first inning initiative by scoring two runs. In the second, they came up with another. Bouncing back in the third, T&C caught up, scoring three and tying the count.

The fifth inning saw another run score for Columbia and then everything broke loose in the seventh, for Columbia drove in 10 runs, thus making the score 14-3. In a valiant come-back try, T&C knocked in four, but succumbed to defeat.

Sue Burks was the winning pitcher while Earlene Walz was the loser.

US Amateur Golf Play Gets Underway

NEW YORK (AP)—Fifty-eight golfers, first of an army of 1,294, take to the fairways today and fire the opening salvo in a five-week campaign to determine the 1954 U. S. amateur champion.

Thirty-six of the hopefuls will be shooting for five qualifying berths at Boston. The remaining 22 will try for three spots at Milwaukee.

The 1,294 total entry is the second largest. The record number was 1,416 in 1951.

Of the huge field, 1,267 players will try for 173 qualifiers' places at 37 sectional sites of which the Boston and Milwaukee trials are the first. Salt Lake City and Seattle will hold their trials on Monday with all others scheduled for Tuesday.

Gene Littler, who won the 1953 title, has turned pro and a new king will be crowned.

Grantland Rice Leaves Estate of $30,500

Porky Oliver Leads In PGA Field at 66

ST. PAUL (AP) — Sam Snead, maneuvering with a sharp list to starboard and a grouchy look that was the natural result of a stiff neck, had to climb a tree on the 15th hole to make a reasonably good score in the first qualifying round of the 36th PGA championship.

Ed "Porky" Oliver, suffering from a painful kidney ailment that has forced him to drop out of several recent tournaments, holed putts from all over the course for a five-under-par 66.

And 28 players shot 71 or better over the barren, un-hardened Keller course to turn the opening round of the nation's toughest test of professional golf into a race against par for the 64 available places in the match play bracket.

That was the story as 135 of America's leading pro golfers headed into today's qualifying semi-ind round of the PGA tournament with the prospect that a 36-hole total of 146 or better would be needed to get into the show-own stage of match play, starting tomorrow.

Snead's "shot" from a post oak tree was the high spot of the opening round in which the pros took Keller's par of 36-35—71 to pieces, just as had been predicted.

The West Virginia walloper, suffering from a recurrence of the stiffness in his neck that plagued him all through the Open championship, almost pulled out of the tournament. But he decided to give it a try and until he hit the 225-yard 15th, Snead was doing very well.

There his tee shot drifted and the ball lodged in the fork of a tree, some 15 feet above the ground. Sammy, stiff neck and all, had to go up there after it. He knocked it out and got a five on the par three hole for a creditable score of 35-38—73.

The real business of the tournament begins tomorrow when 64 golfers buckle down to head-to-head matches. There'll be two rounds of 18 hole duels Friday.

Pompey Upset In US Start By Mose Ward

CHICAGO (AP) — Upset by tank-like Moses Ward of Detroit in his American debut, British middleweight and light heavyweight champion Yolande Pompey still feels he's the new blood this country's televised boxing is seeking.

"I just couldn't get started," said the powerful but somewhat slow puncher from Trinidad after dropping the 10-round decision before national TV cameras in Chicago Stadium last night.

"I've fought better fighters and I can do better."

It was only the second defeat in 31 pro starts for Pompey who went into this one a heavy favorite.

Ward, who posted his 19th victory in 26 fights, came out of the free-swinging scrap with ample respect for the West Indian.

"He's a very good puncher," Ward declared. "His left jab is as hard as the rights of a lot of fighters. It hurt me in the seventh round when he drove me to the ropes in the corner."

Pompey weighed 163½, Ward 162.

The low-slung Detroiter piled up his winning margin early and withstood Pompey's determined bid in the last three rounds.

In the sixth Ward worked Pompey into a corner and let fly with a punishing series of blows to the head.

"I thought I had him then," the Detroit slugger said later. "But he rolled out of there. He's plenty clever."

Pompey came to life in the seventh, his best round, forcing Ward to the ropes with his strong, straight lefts. But by then the invader needed a knockout, and he couldn't deliver.

Judge Edward Hintz and Referee Frank Gilmer scored it 94 points to 92 in favor of Ward. Judge Frank McAdams called it a 92-92 draw.

KC Power Co. Staff Sets Up Picket Line

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Clerical employes of the Kansas City Power & Light Co. went on strike early today and at 6:30 a. m. picket lines were thrown around the company's report stations.

The strike had not affected delivery of power to Kansas Citians and to other areas served by the company early today. Maintenance workers were observing the picket lines, however, and complications could develop in event of mechanical trouble at the plants.

The term report station covers all places where the company's clerical workers are employed, including the power plants as well as the main office building in downtown Kansas City.

The strike involves about 600 members of Local 1613 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (AFL).

Company officials said supervisory personnel would take over plant operations if necessary to assure an uninterrupted flow of power

The strike call followed a meeting held yesterday in an attempt to negotiate a new contract between the union and the company. The negotiators reached an accord on an 8.35-cent-an-hour across the board wage increase but could not agree on fringe benefits.

Chairman Daniel C. Rogers of the state mediation board said Gov. Phil Donnely had advised he would take action if and when it is necessary in order to protect the public in an emergency.

Rogers said the governor "will take every legal means available to protect citizens of Kansas City against a stoppage of public utilities by reasons of a strike."

The company's maintenance and operating employes — also members of the electrical workers brotherhood—agreed to a new contract June 30, twenty minutes before a strike deadline.

Love for Dogs Costs Little Boy His Life

DETROIT (AP) — Little Joey Bednar's love for dogs cost his life today.

The six-year-old youngster could not have a dog of his own because he was allergic to dog hair, but he still loved the animals.

When a neighbor found a stray dog last night and locked it in his garage until he could determine who owned it, Joey wanted to make sure the doggy did not go hungry. The boy climbed up on an overturned pail and peeked in through an open window to make sure the dog was alright.

The window dropped suddenly, breaking Joey's neck.

Madison Has First Summer Polio Case

MADISON, Mo. (AP) — The summer's first polio case in the Madison, Mo., neighborhood has been reported. The victim is Robbie Smith, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Smith of Madison.

Only 2 Outstate Golfers Still In Women's Golf

ST. LOUIS (AP) —A 16-year-old Poplar Bluff girl, Kate Richards, and Miss Pat Rubelee of Kansas City are the only outstate entrants still in the championship running as the Women's Missouri State Golf tournament goes into the quarterfinal stage today.

Miss Richards, who took part in one of the best matches of the day yesterday, meets Mrs. W. F. Anderson. Miss Rubelee faces Miss Susie Driscoll, sister of her opponent yesterday, Mary Rose Driscoll, who she defeated 6 and 4.

Mrs. John Wilker of Kansas City was six down but won the last six holes to square her second-round match against Miss Richards. But Miss Richards sank a 6-foot putt for a birdie to win on the 19th hole.

Two tourney favorites from St. Louis, Miss Marilyn Herpel and Mrs. Roy Diefenbach, turned in easy victories yesterday. Miss Herpel, defending champion, was one over par in winning from Mrs. John Peterson, St. Louis, 6 and 4. Mrs. Diefenbach, runner-up in the 1953 event, won 7 and 6 from Mrs. Gordon Miller, also of St. Louis.

In other second round matches yesterday—all with St. Louis players—Mrs. Anderson defeated Mrs. Allen Schmidt, 6 and 5; Mrs. Russell Schoneberg defeated Mrs. W. G. Rasmussen, 4 and 2, and Mrs. Ray Schwartz defeated Mrs. Mahlon B. Wallace Jr., 4 and 3.

One Marine Is Killed, Another Is Injured In One-Car Accident

LEBANON (AP)—One Marine was killed and another was injured today in a one-car accident on U.S. 66 at the west edge of Lebanon.

Police said the dead man was identified from papers as 2nd Lt. John T. Moss, 24, Evansville, Ind., who was stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif. Moss died in a hospital here shortly after the accident.

The injured Marine was Pfc. Jessie L. Atkins, 18, Nashville, Tenn., who had been given a ride by the lieutenant.

Both men were en route to their homes on leave.

Danes Suspend Trade Talks With Moscow

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—A Danish trade delegation which had negotiated for months in Moscow on a new Danish-Soviet trade agreement was suddenly called home today as the Russians came up with a last minute demand for two Danish tankers.

Officials said Denmark, as a member of the North Atlantic alliance, could not comply with this demand and the Danish government decided to suspend the negotiations.

The independent newspaper Information, in an editorial headlined "Soviet Pressure On Denmark," called the Soviet move "a trial baloon to establish whether the Atlantic unity may be shaken."

West German Anti-Spying Chief Ducks

BERLIN (AP) — Police announced today Dr. Otto John, West German anti-espionage chief, went to Communist East Berlin with a friend Tuesday night and that a note left behind indicated he would not return.

The West Berlin police announcement followed by a few hours a statement by the West German interior ministry that John was believed kidnaped by the Communists.

West Berlin police said John had been suffering "serious menal depression" in recent days.

He had come to Berlin last wee to attend the 10th anniversary observance of the abortive July 20, 1944, bomb plot to assassinate Adolf Hitler. His brother was executed after the plot failed.

John's official title is chief of the Federal Office for the Protection of the Constitution. The office is charged with guarding against treason, espionage and activities endangering the Democratic state, though its powers are more limited, it hands duties much as the Federal Bureau of Investigation does in the United States.

John's office deals mainly with Communist and other anti-Democratic organizations in West Germany.

The missing official went to Berlin last week to attend the reelection of West German President Theodor Heuss and the 10th anniversary observance of the July 20 bomb plot against Hitler.

Communist secret agents have forcibly abducted 34 West Berlin residents since the fall of 1949. West Berlin's anti - Communist League of Free Jurists said recently. The league said 98 others were lured into the Soviet sector and arrested.

John was a member of the resistance group that planned Hitler's assassination.

The FOPC has no executive powers and cannot make arrests. But leftists attacked it on its creation as a "new Gestapo," a charge tartly denied by government authorities.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer himself entered the debate and declared that if a similar organization had existed before 1933 the Nazi party never would have attained power.

St. Joseph Council Will Annex 14 Square Miles Around City

ST. JOSEPH (AP)—The St. Joseph city council voted unanimously yesterday to take legal action for annexation of 14 square miles of land on the north, east and south sides of the city.

The case will be started in circuit court under a new state law that gives authority for annexation decisions to circuit judges rather than city councils.

If the annexation plan is completed, it will double the city's area and add about 5,000 to its population.

RESOLUTION NO. 144

A RESOLUTION declaring it necessary to bring to the established grade and pave with a hot mix asphalt mat coat 1½ inches thick, after compaction, from curb to curb all that part of the roadway of Seventh Street, a public street within the City of Sedalia, Missouri, from the west line of Lamine Avenue on the east, thence west to the east line of Osage Avenue, a public street within the City of Sedalia, Missouri, except intersections thereof.

BE IT RESOLVED by the Council of the City of Sedalia, Missouri, as follows:

Section 1. The Council of the City of Sedalia, Missouri, finds, deems and hereby declares it to be necessary to bring to the established grade and pave with a hot mix asphalt mat coat 1½ inches thick, after compaction, from curb to curb, all that part of the roadway of Seventh Street, a public street within the City of Sedalia, Missouri, from the west line of Lamine Avenue on the east, thence west to the east line of Osage Avenue, a public street within the City of Sedalia, Missouri, except intersections thereof, according to the plans and specifications to be prepared by the City Engineer of the City of Sedalia, and to be on file with the City Clerk of said City on or before the 29th day of July, 1954.

SECTION 2. BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the City Engineer of said City shall prepare plans and specifications for said work and improvement, together with an estimate of the cost thereof, and shall file the same with the City Clerk of Sedalia, on or before the 29th day of July, 1954, for inspection by the public.

SECTION 3. BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the cost of said improvement shall be paid by special assessments against the lots and lands fronting or abutting on either side of said part of Seventh Street, a public street within said City as aforesaid, to be so improved and on said improvement being completed special tax bills shall be issued against said lots and lands chargeable with the cost of said improvement and that the cost of bringing said part of said Seventh Street to the established grade shall be included in the special assessment for paying for the bringing of said street to the established grade and paving all that part of the said Seventh Street, a public street within said City as aforesaid, to be so improved and on said improvement being completed, special tax bills shall be issued against said lots and lands chargeable with the cost of said improvement, and that the cost of bringing said part of Seventh Street, to the established grade shall be included in the special assessment for paying for the bringing of said street to the established grade and paving all that part of the said Seventh Street, a public street within the City of Sedalia, Missouri, from the west line of Lamine Avenue on the east, thence west to the east line of Osage Avenue, a public street within the City of Sedalia, Missouri, except intersections thereof, according to the plans and specifications to be prepared by the City Engineer of the City of Sedalia, and to be on file with the City Clerk of said City on or before the 29th day of July, 1954.

SECTION 2. BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the City Engineer of said City shall prepare plans and specifications for said work and improvement, together with an estimate of the cost thereof, and shall file the same with the City Clerk of said City, on or before the 29th day of July, 1954, for inspection by the public.

SECTION 3. BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the cost of said improvement shall be paid by special assessments against the lots and lands fronting or abutting on either side of said part of Seventh Street, a public street within said City as aforesaid, to be so improved and on said improvement being completed special tax bills shall be issued against said lots and lands chargeable with the cost of said improvement and that the cost of bringing said part of said Seventh Street to the established grade shall be included in the special assessment for paying for the bringing of said street to the established grade and paving all that part of the said Seventh Street, a public street within said City as aforesaid, to be so improved and on said improvement being completed, special tax bills shall be issued against said lots and lands chargeable with the cost of said improvement, and that the cost of bringing said part of Seventh Street, to the established grade shall be included in the special assessment for paying for the bringing of said street to the established grade and paving all that part of the said Seventh Street, a public street within the City of Sedalia, Missouri, from the west line of Lamine Avenue on the east, thence west to the east line of Osage Avenue, a public street within the City of Sedalia, Missouri, except intersections thereof, according to the plans and specifications to be prepared by the City Engineer of the City of Sedalia, and to be on file with the City Clerk of said City on or before the 29th day of July, 1954.

SECTION 2. Terry Moore Doubts Stanky Meant Apology

MILWAUKEE (AP)—There seemed to be some doubt in the mind of Philadelphia Phillies' manager Terry Moore last night about the sincerity of the sugar-and-cream apology made the other day by manager Eddie Stanky of the St. Louis Cardinals.

"He said the same thing in 1952, right after he got the job, but the reform didn't last long," said Moore, who was involved in the fracas last Sunday at Busch Stadium in St. Louis. Moore, a Cardinal coach in '52, was released a short time later by Stanky and the two haven't been exactly friendly since then.

Moore chuckled when someone mentioned that the Cardinals had beaten the Phillies, 5-1, Monday night under the direction of coach Johnny Riddle while Stanky was under suspension.

"Yeah," said Moore, "and things were a lot different in the dugout the boys tell me. Why, they said some of the Cardinals were even smiling and I heard somebody say it was too bad Stanky didn't get the whole season off."

Moore went on to explain that under Stanky there is strict discipline in the Cardinal dugout during games, with no conversant permitted and players ordered to look straight ahead at the field at all times.

Auto Theft Convention Ends With Fatality

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The chaplain of the International Association of Auto Theft Investigators collapsed and died yesterday as the organization was closing its three-day convention in Kansas City.

Deputy Coroner Joe Connors said Lt. Willis F. Large of the Oklahoma Highway Patrol died of a heart attack aggravated by the heat. He lived at Bethany, Oklahoma.

Drought-Area Ducks Are Afraid of Water

DENTON, Ga. (AP) — A pair of ducks that can't swim are living evidence of the drought in this area.

When they had reached the age of eight weeks without ever seeing a puddle big enough to paddle in, their owner, Eddie Williams, 6, decided it was high time they got a chance to do what's supposed to come naturally to all ducks.

He filled a tub with water, tossed them in and stood by to watch. And a good thing he did, too. Eddie barely saved them from drowning.

Now they apparently consider water a death-trap for dryland ducks and won't go near the dangerous stuff.

There are 35 possible dates on which Easter can occur, between March 22 and April 25.

They planted the seed of their desires... and it grew into hate and suspicion. And now they were touched by original sin— enmeshed in the

How to Address Mail to Guards At Camp McCoy

Members of division headquarters of the 35th Infantry Division, Missouri National Guard, are operating the post office at Camp McCoy, Wis., during the two-week summer field training program now under way. The headquarters is located at the Sedalia Armory during the rest of the year.

In command of the camp post office is Capt. David E. Basham Jr., Warrensburg.

The men have been cautioned to have mail sent to them contain both their unit and 35th Division in the address, because there are many other outfits at Camp McCoy. Persons writing to men at the camp are asked not to send mail after Wednesday, July 28, because it probably will not reach the men before they return to their homes. The last day of the camp is July 31.

New York Arranges Special Treatment For Problem Drivers

NEW YORK (AP)—From now on, the city's problem drivers are going to get "the works" the scientific way.

Chief Magistrate John M. Murtagh said yesterday that all persistent traffic violators will be given a choice — six sessions of a night driving school and a sentence based on their performance there—or a heavy sentence on the spot.

Murtagh said the new school, scheduled to open Oct. 1, will give the drivers "everything," including psychiatric examinations, driving lesson and safety lectures.

The problem drivers, Murtagh explained, are "the ones who keep having accidents, who are chronic speeders, who keep running through red lights."

Memorial Rites Sunday At Syracuse

By Mrs. B. A. Bridges

SYRACUSE — The ninth annual memorial service, honoring the men and women of this community who fought and died in World War II, will be held at the Syracuse Baptist Church, Sunday, July 25, with an all day service. The purpose of the meeting is that all who wish to may give an offering to help support a missionary where Miss Cecile Lancaster is stationed, at Seinan Jo Gakuin, Kokura, Japan.

Morning services will be the regular worship with the pastor, the Rev. James Allen delivering the sermon. A basket dinner will be served in the church dining room at the noon hour. At 2 p. m. a special program has been planned, with special music. A history of memorial day will be read. The guest speaker will be Dr. Curtis Hutcherson, professor of the Bible at Warrensburg. In conclusion an offering will be taken.

Sgt. J. E. Poe, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Andrew Poe, received his discharge last week at Camp Carson, Colo., coming to Kansas City, Kan., Saturday where his wife Shirley lives. They came to the home of his parents in Syracuse Sunday, spending the week here. Mr. Poe entered service on July 18, 1952. Taking his basic training at Fort Riley, Kan., he later went to Seattle, Wash., sailing from there to Korea, where he spent 16 months with the Third Division, Seventh Inf. regiment. Mr. and Mrs. Poe, who formerly lived in Detroit will be at home at 6315 Georgia, Kansas City, Kan.

Mr. and Mrs. Poe entertained Saturday evening with a fish fry, honoring their son and daughter-in-law. Others present were: Mr. and Mrs. Ira Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Ulmer, Sedalia; Mrs. Gussie Poe, Judy, Janet and Bobbie of the home. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hubbard and children were after dinner callers.

Paul Wray Fowler, F. N. left Tuesday for San Diego, Calif., to return to Korea. He had been in the states five months, taking a special training course at Great Lakes Naval Training School, Chicago. After completing that course he spent 15 days at home with his wife and son Kenneth and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Fowler.

The Rev. and Mrs. James L. Allen had as their weekend guests their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Allen, Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Burns, Kathy and David, Marshall, spent Sunday with the former's mother, Mrs. Kate Burns. Additional dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Burns and Cynthia, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Keevil and V. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Decker had as their weekend guests, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Mais and Carol Anne, Kansas City. Their son Bobbie had spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Decker. About noon on Sunday a group of relatives came in with baskets of food, surprising Mrs. Mais on her birthday. Others present were: Mr. and Oll Moon, Fortuna; Mrs. Del Carey, Miss Dona Luna, Tipton; Miss Lelia Moon, Boonville; Mr. Allen Piesham, Columbia; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Moon and Leon, Syracuse, and Mr. and Mrs. Decker of the home.

Mrs. Harold Stahl, Louisa Annex and Lane visited Wednesday with the former's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Moon and daughter, Versailles. Louise Anne and Lane remained until Saturday, when their father went for them.

Mr. and Mrs. George Putnam visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hutchison, New Lebanon.

S. E. Ford visited from Wednesday to Saturday with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Nelson, Bunceton.

Extension Club Presidents and Vice-Presidents will attend the third County Council Meeting of the club year Monday, July 26. This meeting will be held at the Fifth Methodist Church, 4th and Osage beginning at 10:30 a.m. Each person attending will bring a covered dish.

The Chamber of Commerce and 4-H Picnic was a huge success due to the fine cooperation and work of all the 4-H members, leaders and parents.

We in the Extension Office want to say "Thanks" to everyone who had a part in this annual event.

As is true after any picnic, there were several things left unclaimed. We have a box in the Extension Office of these various items including an aluminum mixing bowl, a silver tray (belonging to Janet Bradley) 1 china plae (pink flowers), 1 tin pie pan, 1 glass mug, 2 glasses, 1 purple tumbler, 1 can pork and beans, 1 knife (belonging to Oscar Zimmerschied), 1 can opener, several forks and spoons, two tea towels and several other items. We would appreciate your calling at the office and claiming your equipment if you lost some at the picnic.

We are always glad to hear reports of ideas folks have tried and found successful. Last week Mrs. Paul Stephens from the Longwood Extension Club was in and reported on insect control in their garden. They have tried the 3-way insecticide (Methoxychlor, Iindane and Aramite) recommended by Mr. Clyde Cunningham, Extension Garden Specialist, for garden insects.

The Stephens family have been making some additions to their kitchen both in new equipment and convenient rearrangement.

Mrs. Stephens said they are firm believers in anything Mr. Cunningham recommends as everything they have tried has proven successful.

She said they were able to control the insects where the insecticide was applied as directed. As a result the family have had a generous amount of vegetables to eat and a supply for home preservation. The secret of this success is getting to the vegetables with the preventative before the insects make their appearance.

Homemade Ice Cream

If you are planning a picnic or entertaining at home, here are a few suggestions which may help you in making the favorite dessert —homemade ice cream.

The ice cream mixture will be chilled and ready for freezing if it is prepared two or three hours before it goes into the freezer.

The mixture expands as it freezes; therefore, do not fill the can more than three-fourths full.

The crank should be turned slowly until the mixture starts to stiffen then turn more rapidly.

Take out the dasher when the mixture is quite stiff and the crank is difficult to turn. Pack the ice cream down in the can and cover.

Pour off all the meled water and pack well with ice and salt. Cover the freezer with several layers of newspapers and burlap sacks or old rugs.

The ice cream should stand for 2 or 3 hours before it is served. One half cup of finely crushed mint stick candy, chocolate chips, crushed dry macaroons or grapenuts added to 2 quarts of vanilla ice cream adds variety in addition to being quite tasty.

Nutritive Value of Cabbage

Cabbage is a low-calorie vegetable—an important source of vitamins, and also supplies some of the needed minerals.

It takes four cupfuls of shredded cabbage to supply as many calories as one tablespoon of table fat. One cup of finely shredded fresh cabbage will provide about two-thirds of the daily requirement of Vitamin C. This is the amount supplied by one and a fourth cups tomato juice or two fifths cup orange juice.

B-vitamins are also supplied by cabbage and green cabbage supplies Vitamin A.

In buying cabbage, look for heads that are solid and firm with the leaves firmly attached to the stem. Soft, wilted cabbage is not a good buy because it has already lost some of its food value.

Cabbage from storage will be white. New cabbage will have green outer leaves. The greener the leaves, the more Vitamin A. Red cabbage has no greater food value than white cabbage but there is less of it and it costs more.

In preparing cabbage remove bruised or discolored leaves. Wash and store in the refrigerator in a covered dish or a plastic bag.

Cut or shred cabbage just before using it. The longer cut cabbage stands before it is used the greater the loss of Vitamin C.

Varieties of Raw Cabbage Salads

Cole-slaw — cream dressing; Cabbage, carrots and peanuts; Cabbage, apple and raisins; Cabbage, celery, radishes; Cabbage, green pepper, pimentos; Cabbage, pineapple.

Cream Dressing

1 cup thick sour cream
3 tablespoons vinegar
1 tablespoon finely minced green onion
½ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons sugar
pepper

Beat all ingredients together. Serve on cabbage.

Beef — A Good Protein Food

In selecting steaks for broiling, choose meat that is graded choice or better and choose loin cuts (sirloin, tenderloin, porterhouse, T-bone, or club steak). In top Choice and Prime beef there may be other hindquarter cuts which will be tender enough to cook by this method, but not many. These steak cuts, in lower grades of beef and all chuck steak cuts will be more satisfactory if cooked with moist heat (braised) and cooked until thoroughly done and tender. Only top grade beef is tender enough to be served rare.

In selecting beef for oven-roasting in an open pan, it is more satisfactory to use top grades of beef and also to use the cuts which are the most tender. Rib roasts and even some top-round, rump and chuck roasts of Prime and Choice beef can be oven-roasted but most of the Choice roasts, except rib roasts; and all the roasts, including rib, from the lower grades of beef, make better pot-roasts than dry-oven roasts. Pot roasting is cooking with moist heat in a covered pan either in the oven or on top of the stove.

To Remove Stains Successfully

Treat the Stain while it is fresh.

Know your cloth — what is it made of? Does it wash well?

Work carefully but quickly.

Try simple methods first. For a nongreasy stain, sponge with cold water. For a greasy stain, try carbon tetrachloride.

Avoid hot water on an unknown stain. Hot water sets many stains.

Test for color change on a sample of the cloth before using any stain remover.

Use removers sparingly. Many brief applications are better than one long one.

Neutralize acids with alkalies, alkalies with acids.

Rinse well — never let a chemical dry on the cloth.

Spread a liquid remover unevenly into the cloth around the stain. Dry rapidly to help prevent rings.

South African Lobster Tails Make Tasty Shish Kebabs

ROCK LOBSTER TAILS served Shish Kebab style are a broiled-to-order treat for all the family.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

Rock lobster tails from South Africa are rapidly becoming familiar on American menus. So we asked Edith Barber, one of America's most famous food authorities and a personal friend of ours, to give us two of her favorite ways of preparing lobster tails. Here they are:

South African Shish Kebabs

Thaw South African rock lobster tails. With scissors, cut undershell around edges and remove. Pull out meat and cut each tail in 4 pieces. Arrange alternately with halved strips of bacon on skewers.

Broil about 5 inches from medium heat, 5 to 6 minutes, until meat is transparent and bacon is lightly browned. Turn and broil 1 minute on other side.

Before serving, arrange a stuffed olive on pointed end of each skewer. Serve garnished with sliced tomatoes and watercress, and accompanied by boiled rice.

South African Ravigote
(4 servings)

Four 6-ounce rock lobster tails OR 2 6½-ounce cans drained rock lobster, 2 tablespoons salad oil, ¼ cup herb vinegar, 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped, ½ cup diced celery, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, 4 tablespoons mayonnaise, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 1 teaspoon aromatic bitters.

Cook tails according to directions. Drain. Remove meat and reserve shells. Chill and flake.

Mix salad oil, vinegar, chopped eggs, celery, parsley and seasonings. Add flaked lobster. Pile mixture into shells.

Combine mayonnaise, mustard and bitters, and top each stuffed lobster with mixture. Serve in lettuce cups. Garnish with lemon wedges.

Directions for Boiling: Place South African rock lobster tails, either thawed or frozen, into large kettle boiling salted water (1 teaspoon salt for each quart water). When water reboils, lower heat so water boils gently, and begin counting time. Keep covered.

Boil tails 1 minute longer than their individual weight in ounces. For instance, boil a 6-ounce tail 7 minutes. (Add 2 minutes to all boiling times when tails are cooked frozen.)

To remove meat easily from shell, drain off hot water, drench with cold water. Using scissors, cut lengthwise through center of membrane covering flesh and insert fingers under meat at open end and pull meat out.

TABLE TREATS
FROM THE FAMOUS
M. C. P. KITCHEN LABORATORY
COPR. 1953 MUTUAL CITRUS PRODUCTS, CO. ANAHEIM, CALIF.

IT'S UTTERLY AMAZING HOW MUCH EXTRA JUICE AND JELLY YOU GET!

A WONDERFUL NEW METHOD... developed exclusively by the M.C.P. Kitchen Laboratory... enables you to press crushed fruits and berries through a muslin bag not only quickly, but so effectively you get more than twice as much juice as by the old drip method. This extra large amount of juice, used with M.C.P. JAM AND JELLY PECTIN, makes almost three times as much jelly from a given amount of fruit. Not only that, this juice is so fully clarified that you're sure of clear, transparent jelly every time. To obtain this remarkable M.C.P. method (and the M.C.P. JELLY MAKING SET to use it with), send $1.00 (cash or stamps) and 3 M.C.P. PECTIN package fronts, with your name and address, to M.C.P. Kitchen Laboratory, Anaheim, Calif. You'll get the cost back many times over in extra juice and extra jelly!

THIS CREAMY FRENCH DRESSING WILL NOT SEPARATE!

PECTIN DOES IT!... That is, if you use M.C.P. JAM AND JELLY PECTIN. No other pectin will do the trick. It may seem strange to think of using pectin this way... but it's one of the many plus values of M.C.P. PECTIN. The recipe was developed by the M.C.P. Kitchen Laboratory, which is constantly on the lookout for new and unusual uses for all M.C.P. products. Not only is this M.C.P. French Dressing delightfully tangy in flavor, its non-separating feature and its great economy make it unusually appealing. If you'd like to have the recipe, simply write the M.C.P. Kitchen Laboratory, Anaheim, Calif., and the recipe will be sent promptly and without charge.

IT'S A NATURAL REFRESHER WHEN HOT WEATHER FAGS YOU!

PURE, COOLING LEMONADE... made in seconds with ready-to-use M.C.P. CANNED LEMON JUICE! There's no muss or fuss... no lemons to squeeze... just add water, sugar, and ice. Costs so little, too... only pennies a glass. That's important to think of when there are youngsters to satisfy. Lemonade made with M.C.P. LEMON JUICE is pure and wholesome because M.C.P. LEMON JUICE is pure, full-strength, unadulterated, rich in Vitamin C. It's NOT "reconstituted"... contains no preservatives of any kind, such as unwholesome sulphur dioxide or benzoate of soda. (When you buy lemon juice, canned or bottled, be sure to read the label carefully.) M.C.P. LEMON JUICE has many wonderful uses, as you'll see by writing for a FREE Recipe Folder to the M.C.P. Kitchen Laboratory, Anaheim, Calif. (Remember, too, there's M.C.P. FROZEN LEMON JUICE. If your grocer doesn't stock it, ask him to get it for you.)

Please The Guests With This Chicken

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

This chicken was made to order: A friend wrote to say that she was particularly fond of a recipe of ours that called for baking chicken quarters over a simple herb-seasoned dry bread crumb stuffing. She had used the recipe a good deal and so she asked, "Do you have anything similar—but flavored differently?"

The recipe below is our answer: chicken quarters layered over a dressing that this time is made with buttery tidbits of fresh bread and flavored piquantly with lemon juice, parsley and pimiento.

We like this dish for company because you can put it in the oven half an hour or so before dinner is to be served and forget about it. When everyone is ready to sit down, out comes the chicken — tender as can be and a beautiful golden - brown atop its good dressing. So easy to serve, too, if you follow our directions for placing the chicken on aluminum foil. If you are having a party of eight, you will find this recipe is an easy one to double.

Since you will have your oven on for the chicken, you might as well bake potatoes at the same time to serve with it. But if the potatoes are large ones, put them in the oven a little ahead of the chicken to make sure they get done. Corn on the cob and a salad of raw fresh vegetables will round out the main course; dessert might be a fruit shortcake. Or if you are in a take-it-easy mood, serve the chicken with just a hearty salad of lettuce, pineapple and berry-topped cottage cheese; for dessert have a coffee gelatin mold or a chocolate Bavarian cream so as not to repeat the fruit flavors of the salad. You can make the coffee or chocolate desserts in the morning, or even the night before, and save yourself last-minute preparation.

Chicken Anita

Ingredients: 1 quart tiny soft bread cubes (about 8 thin slices bread with crusts on), ¼ cup chopped canned drained pimiento, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 5 tablespoons butter or margarine, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 to 2½ pounds (ready-to-cook weight) frying chicken (quartered), 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1½ teaspoons butter (melted).

Method: Mix bread cubes with pimiento, parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper, butter and 3 tablespoons lemon juice. Line a shallow baking pan with aluminum foil. Place 4 mounds of stuffing apart from each other on the foil, using about 1 cup in each mound. Clean chicken; pat dry. Sprinkle inside of each piece of chicken lightly with salt; place one-quarter chicken over each mound of stuffing. Mix 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 1½ teaspoons melted butter; brush chicken with mixture. Bake (uncovered) in a hot (400 degrees) oven 30 to 40 minutes or until chicken is tender and golden-brown. Cut foil into 4 pieces and serve chicken on foil, if desired. Or remove chicken and dressing from foil with large spatula. Makes 4 servings.

Make Visit To Mother After 30 Years

By Mrs. Charles Rank

CALHOUN—Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Cochran and twin sons, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rimel returned last week from a three weeks trip through the west. They visited Mr. Cochran's mother at Seattle, Wash., whom they hadn't seen for 30 years.

Mrs. James E. Slack, who underwent surgery in Clinton, returned home Sunday July 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rank spent the weekend in Springfield with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hansen and Connie Ann. Sunday, the Ranks and Hansens drove to Branson, Rockaway Beach and other places of interest

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Failer and daughter, Kay, spent the weekend with Mrs. Failer's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Atwell, Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Parks and Bonnie, Calhoun, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Viebrock and family, Clinton, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Chastain and family, Sedalia, spent the weekend at Lone Oak on the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Williams and family, Minneapolis, Minn., visited last week with his father and brother, Mr. Earl Williams. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams and family, and other relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Goodrich and son, Joe, of Texas, are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Goodrich.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Richardson and sons, Kansas City, spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Hughes.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave McGranahan and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Marion Dittons, and family, Holden, spent Sunday with Mrs. Glen Althoff and family. Miss Donna Gene Althoff is slowly improving from her injuries she suffered in a car accident near Leesvile last Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Uhlenbock visited their daughter, Francis, at the Windsor Hospital Sunday. Several of Francis' friends also called on her Sunday afternoon. She received a fracture in the accident at Leesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Carroll and Mrs. Cora Vivian received the message Sunday that Melvin Hudson, Warrensburg, had been killed in a tractor accident Saturday evening. He was a brother of Mrs. Vivian, and was Mrs. Carroll's brother-in-law.

A charivari and shower for Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Bradley was held at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Noel Bradley Saturday night. Many nice gifts were received. Candy and cigars were served to the crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Johnson and family left Sunday for Scott Bluff, Neb., for two weeks, as Mr. Johnson has employment there.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cecil spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parks.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Askins and daughter, Kansas City, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Askins recently. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Higbee and son, Tom, Kansas City, visited Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Askins.

Nancy Parks, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Parks, was ill this week and taken to a Clinton doctor the first of the week.

Miss Mary and Margaret Atwell visited their sister, Mrs. Grover Summers and family, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Munday spent last week at their cabin at Gravois Mills.

Blue Ribbon Dish for Dog Days

SALMON QUICKIE—Takes no time at all to prepare.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Keep this recipe in mind for those dog days when you don't want to heat up your kitchen for any length of time, but still want to give your family at least one hot dish for lunch or supper. We call it Cover-up Salmon. It's quickly put together, then broiled in a matter of minutes.

When we tried this entree, Alice McComb — one of the best cooks we know — was helping us test recipes. Alice immediately went to work on a variation of our salmon recipe, and we are giving you her version because it has a delightful added touch.

This dish is frankly fancy looking, but don't let appearances mislead you. It is filling enough for the heartiest male appetite. Under the mask of mayonnaise there is a generous serving of the salmon.

There are so many appropriate accompaniments to Cover-up Salmon. Here are four of them that are particularly suitable in warm weather.

1. Bundles of whole green beans (home-cooked or canned) marinated in a vinaigrette sauce. To make the sauce just mix olive or other salad oil, vinegar, a suspicion of dry mustard, salt and freshly ground pepper. The beans should be cold, of course, and at serving time may be topped with thin rings of onion.

2. A relish of whole - kernel corn, finely diced celery and sweet red or green pepper in an old-fashioned dressing of vinegar, sugar, salt and freshly ground pepper.

3. Drained bundles of canned or frozen cooked asparagus "tied" with strips of canned pimiento.

4. Thin slices of fluted cucumber and sprigs of water cress.

Cover-Up Salmon

Ingredients: One 1-pound can red salmon, 4 slices bread, 1 tablespoon lemon or lime juice, ½ cup mayonnaise.

Method: Open salmon can at one end; carefully turn out salmon in one piece. Cut salmon crosswise, into 4 slices. Use empty salmon can to cut each slice of bread into rounds. Place bread rounds on broiler rack to toast lightly on one side. Place salmon slices, using wide spatula, on untoasted side of bread rounds; sprinkle with lemon juice. Place on broiler rack with surface of food about 3 inches below heat. Broil 5 to 8 minutes, or until salmon is heated through. Watch so as not to scorch and adjust rack or heat if necessary. Cover top and sides of salmon with mayonnaise; broil 2 to 3 minutes longer. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Alice's Variation: Place a thin round of onion on top of salmon before putting under broiler. Sprinkle mayonnaise with paprika before putting under broiler. When salmon rounds are ready, garnish center top with capers. Serve for lunch or supper on a dinner plate; place tomato slice on each side of salmon round; top each tomato slice with half a hard-cooked egg and surround with shredded lettuce.

For dessert with Cover-up Salmon, we suggest a refreshing fresh fruit course. You might serve cantaloupe rings filled with fresh blueberries or blackberries. Or sliced fresh peach halves sprinkled with a little finely diced preserved (syrup-packed) ginger. Or just offer big slices of plain icy-cold watermelon!

Rhinestone pins and buckles take on a brand new look when soaked for 15 minutes in gasoline and then rubbed with a dry flannel cloth.

Corn On the Cob Is a Treat Enjoyed Only In America

THERE'S NOTHING MORE to say after you've said, "The corn's ready." Nothing, that is, except: "Hand me another ear."

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Let's face it: Corn on the cob—tender and sweet—is one of America's greatest gifts to a hungry world. We've eaten all over the world, in the finest restaurants and the most hospitable homes. But where did we find corn on the cob? Right here, and only here, in the U.S.A.

Corn is available April through October, reaching its peak in July, August and September.

When buying corn look for cobs which are well fitted, with bright, plump, milky kernels that are firm enough to offer slight resistance to pressure. Husks should be fresh and green.

Fresh Corn on the Cob

Remove husks and silks from fresh corn (corn should be so young it spurts milk when kernels are pressed). Drop in boiling salted water to cover, using 1 teaspoon salt to 1 quart of water.

Cook, covered tightly, just until tender and milk is set, 5 to 10 minutes. Remove at once to basket or platter, covered with a napkin. Serve with butter or margarine and salt and ground black pepper. Allow 1 to 2 ears per person.

Corn Butters

One-quarter cup melted margarine or butter, ⅛ teaspoon ground thyme leaves.

Combine and simmer 1 to 2 minutes. Serve brushed over ears of fresh corn. Serves 4.

One-quarter cup melted margarine or butter, ⅛ teaspoon ground nutmeg.

Combine and serve over fresh ears of corn. Serves 4. (The above 2 sauces contain approximately 100 calories per serving. One 5-inch ear of corn contains approximately 84 calories.)

One-quarter cup melted margarine or butter, ¼ teaspoon seasoning salts (garlic, onion or celery). Combine and serve over fresh ears of corn. Serves 4.

One-quarter cup melted margarine or butter, ¼ cup grated cheese. Combine and serve over ears of fresh corn. Serves 4. (This sauce contains approximately 128 calories per serving.)

Otterville Has 21 Attending Mission Meet

By Miss Cora Cordry

OTTERVILLE — There were 21 people from the Baptist Church to go to Versailles Tuesday to attend the associational missionary R.A. an G.A. meeting in session there.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Allen and family, Cushing, Okla., came Friday to spend two weeks with her mother, Mrs. Bertha Glenn, and other relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Young attended the Young reunion Sunday at Liberty Park in Sedalia.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Fisher went to Guthrie Sunday to attend graveside services for the infant son of their nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Siegel.

Billy Schilb and Donald Zumsteg left Saturday with the National Guard to spend two weeks in field training at Camp McCoy, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. David Schilb and family, Franklin Square, N. Y., came Monday for a two-week visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Schilb, and his brothers and their families.

The Rebekah and IOOF ice cream social cleared $74.44 last Friday evening.

J. D. Fry, J. B. Meyer and Donald Stamberger have returned from Belvidere, Ill., where they were employed in a canning factory.

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Leaton Saturday evening were Mrs. Alma Hausam and Janet Morris, Sedalia.

John Diefendorf, Albuquerque, N. M., visted a short time Saturday with his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Diefendorf, and his nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Diefendorf. He was accompanied by his brother-in-law, Clennie Byler, Sedalia.

Mrs. Lorene Klein is recovering from injuries received in a fall down a flight of stairs at her home.

Harvey Alley, who suffered a sprained ankle last Friday, is able to walk on crutches.

Mrs. Walter Castle, who received a fractured arm in a fall at the home of her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. H. Roger Starke, was able to have the cast removed Friday. Her son, Allen, who suffered a fractured left ankle at the last school picnic, was able to have his cast taken off also.

Hubert Burford, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Burford, suffered a severe injury to his right hand recently, while he was working with a water tank, which slipped and fell on his hand. He is doing satisfactorily.

Mr. and Mrs. John Phillips, Mrs. Jack Phillips and son, Kansas City, spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Jennie Phillips.

Miss Lois Bente visited from Tuesday until Friday with her uncle, Charles Bente, and her cousin, Mrs. Mildred Goddard.

Mr. and Mrs. Granville Schilb, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Bobbitt and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Knowles, Kansas City, spent the week at their homes here.

Mrs. Ethlyn Layne returned home from an extended visit in the home of her niece, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Hall, Pittsburg, Kan. They accompanied her and will spend several days here. Mrs. Layne's son, Granville, Denver, Colo., came Saturday for an indefinite time.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Snyder had as guests during the week their nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Perley McNeal, Towanda, Pa., her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Billie Wall of Sedalia. Sunday the Snyder and McNeal families were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wall.

Mrs. Lula Cordry went to Leeton Friday morning to attend funeral services for Squire Brooks.

Mrs. C. A. Leach went to Elston Sunday to visit her sister, Miss Geneva McKinney. Another sister, Mrs. Goldie Wilhite, St. Louis, met her there.

Jesse Straten and Neale Goode went to Columbia Wednesday where Mr. Goode received a checkup at the Ellis Fischel Hospital. While there they visited Mrs. Sallie Burford, who underwent surgery recently. They reported her much improved.

Mrs. C. R. Shy attended a luncheon Tuesday of the Ladies Auxiliary of Railroad Trainmen, which met at the Auxiliary Hall in Sedalia.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Gochenour were in Kansas City Friday for a short visit with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. David Groves. Mrs. Groves was recently dismissed from the hospital following surgery. Her condition is good.

Mrs. Bessie Smith, Warrensburg, spent from Friday until Monday with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Burford.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wear and family, Hunewell, Kan., were here for an indefinite stay with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Wear.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Shy went to Sedalia Saturday for a visit with their niece, Mrs. Lacy Cain, San Antonio, Tex., who is visiting her brother, J. W. Neal.

Ralph Gargus, Peoria, Ill., is spending a two-week vacation here with his father, George Gargus.

At the regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Monday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. Walter Castle, the annual election of officers was held. Those elected; president, Mrs. L. A. Bane; firse vice-president, Mrs. Walter Thompson; second vice-president, Mrs. Charles Wilson; secretary, Mrs. Mary Bishop; treasurer, Mrs. Danny Glenn; chaplain, Mrs. Walter Castle; historian, Mrs. K. J. Morris; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Leo J. Smith.

Mrs. Castle and Mrs. Thompson were elected delegates to the state convention to be held in Kansas City. The historian, Mrs. Morris, gave a full account of the activities during the year. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Bane.

Donald Gochenour called his mother, Mrs. Edith Gochenour, by telephone from West Virginia, saying that he had been discharged from the Navy and hoped to be home shortly before returning to his job there.

MISS LIBERTY SHINES—Puerto Rican Boy Scouts Benjamin Negron, on pedestal, and Pedro Malave prepare for the second anniversary of Puerto Rico's Commonwealth status on July 25, by giving "Miss Liberty" a shine. The replica of the famous U. S. statue was given to San Juan, by the Boy Scouts as part of the organization's "Strengthen the Arm of Liberty" campaign.

Thinks of the Possible Good Effects of Atomic Bombing

By CHARLES MERCER for HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—My frivolous thought for the day recently cast a feeble ray of opimism on the effects of an atomic bombing. It could, I thought, just happen to do a little good for a very few survivors by destroying (1) birth certificate records and (2) marriage license records.

The boon would be great to women in their 40s who long to be 31. Who could deny their claim to eternal youth if the record were destroyed? To some women the claim of youth appears so precious that apparently they would gladly forfeit their stocks, bonds and bank accounts to a holacaust.

Then here is the case of some married couples. Imagine John and Mary wandering back to the wreckage, and suppose that Mary has been tired of married life with John for some time. As they approach each other in the smoking ruins, John cries, "Darling!" Mary scowls at him and says, "Get away from me. Who are you anyway?" John, aghast, exclaims: "Your beloved husband." Smiling triumphantly, Mary says: "Prove it, you heel." And there goes another marriage.

This frivolous thought occurred to me as I was strolling down the west bank of Fifth Avenue on my way to chat with a fellow named Charlie Costigan.

Costigan, who lives in Oradell, N.J., was preoccupied at the time installing a 30-ton door on a massive vault in the new Manufacturers Trust Co. building. This vault, by the way, sits right up front in the building behind what will be one of the world's biggest sheets of plate glass. Thus if a burglar ever starts tampering with Charlie Costigan's big door he'll attract quite an audience on Fifth Avenue.

Costigan is a lean, limber, quick man who looks 50 and is 60 years old. The Mosler Safe Co., which employs him and his crew of men to go around the country installing vaults, says there are only a half-dozen men in the nation who can do the job that Charlie does.

This hasn't gone to Costigan's head. He is, in fact, remarkably modest. When confronted by the statement he "flips vault doors like pancakes," he smiles helplessly at the floor.

"I am," he says, "a traveling mechanic."

The obvious fact about a vault is that it's no safer than its door. If you've ever put on a screen door you know it's a tricky operation. And when you visualize a 30-ton door that must fit to a hundred-thousandth of an inch and swing at the pressure of a finger you can imagine the highly exacting nature of Costigan's work.

"It is," he says, "all a matter of balance."

While we talked, his crew was jacking up the 30-ton door and cribbing it preparatory to the big moment when they'd swing it across the opening and Costigan would delicately set it in place.

Finally I put the big question to Costigan. "This vault would withstand an atomic bombing—wouldn't it?"

"Why, yes," said Costigan thoughtfully. "Yes, I think it would."

Then, I told Costigan about my frivolous thought, my Fifth Avenue fantasy. He listened politely, but gradually he took on the expression of a man who feared another was putting words in his mouth.

Slowly he backed away. "Well," he said, "I've got to get back to the job."

He was happy to get his hands on something solid like a 30-ton door that had to fit to a hundred-thousandth of an inch.
